OPENS HEADQUARTERS AT THE ARAGON HOTEL AND GETS TO BUSINESS

Says the Time Has Come to Lift the Ban Against the South and That Underwood is the Man With Which to Do It.—Thinks Other Candidates Should Withdraw From Georgia, as Was the Case in Alabama.

Hon. G. R. Hutchens, of Rome, formerly state prison commissioner and now a member of the legal firm of Copeland, Hamilton & Hutchens, of Rome, was in Atlanta yesterday for the purpose of engaging headquarters for the Oscar W. Underwood campaign for the Georgia vote for president at the national democratic convention which meets in Baltimore June 25.

While here Mr. Hutchens engaged three rooms on the second floor of the Aragon hotel, which for the next few months will be the headquarters of the Underwood campaign in Georgia, with Mr. Hutchens in charge.

"Yes," said he, on being asked about the report that he would take charge of the Underwood campaign in Georgia, "I do not mind saying that from now until Georgia acts I shall devote my time and attention to the effort to have this state cast its vote for our next door neighbor, Oscar Underwood, the leader of the democratic forces in the national house, and, as The Constitution has so often stated, the man who would be nominated for president by acclamation if he lived anywhere else in the country than in the south.

Means Perpetual Serfdom.

"Now I for one take the position that the time has long since passed when the south should be made a martyr to sectional conditions arising before I was born. If fifty years is not enough time to lift that ban, then it will not be lifted even against the children of the youngest man living today and we may as well make our minds that we are going to occupy a position of perpetual political serfdom. Even the north resents that suggestion and all that remains for the south to get its rights is for it to assert them. If we continue to lie supinely on our backs and cringingly take the position that our manhood must not be respected, then we will have nobody to blame but ourselves if we are kept forever in the political background.

"All these suggestions are emphasized now by the fact that the south offers the logical nominee of the party—Oscar Underwood. Everybody knows that the campaign this year must be fought out on the tariff and on the Underwood bills. Whatever shortcomings there may be in these measures will be laid at his door, hence why should he and the south not receive whatever benefit there is to come from them?

"I would not favor Underwood against any other man north or south who was the more logical candidate

NO PROMISE GIVEN AND NONE BROKEN, SAYS T. ROOSEVELT

Colonel Clears Up Conflicting Statements as to Attitude in Regard to Nomination.

New York, March 5.—To clear up conflicting statements as to what he had said in the past in regard to the presidential nomination, Colonel Roosevelt today made public a letter which he wrote last January to Frank A. Munsey, the publisher.

Colonel Roosevelt's object in giving out the communication, he said, was to refute the charge that he was breaking a promise in agreeing to accept the nomination if it were offered to him.

He called particular attention to a passage in the letter in which, while stating that he would not be a candidate, he declared that he would not go on record as being unwilling to accept the nomination.

Portion of Munsey Letter.

The portion of the Munsey letter to which the colonel called particular attention follows:

"What I have said to you, and am about to say to you, I have, for instance, said not only to other friends who think I ought to be nominated, but to friends (and even foes) who think I ought not to be nominated, provided only I could trust their sincerity, intelligence and truthfulness. For instance, I have said the same thing to Secretary Stimson, Secretary Meyer and Congressman Longworth, who are supporting Taft; to Mr. Pinchot and Congressman Lenroot and Congressman Kent, who are supporting La Follette.

"I am not and shall not be a candidate. I shall not seek the nomination, nor would I accept it if it came to me as the result of an intrigue.

Refuses to Tie Hands.

"But I will not tie my hands by a statement which would make it difficult for me to serve the public by

EASTER EGG HUNT APRIL 13 FOR CHILDREN OF ATLANTA

The annual Easter egg hunt for the children of Atlanta will be held this year at Grant park on Saturday, April 13, the Saturday following Easter Sunday.

The Constitution was requested by the park commission yesterday afternoon to take charge of the hunt and to co-operate with the commission and in behalf of the thousands of little children who look forward to the Easter egg hunt each year as an event of great pleasure, the work will be gladly undertaken.

The Constitution Subscribes $50.

As a first move in this laudable work and as an evidence of the interest which will be taken in this great occasion for the little ones, The Constitution subscribes $50.

The park commission voted to make its regular donation of $100.

The Georgia Railway and Electric Company, as it has been officially requested by the park commission to make a liberal commission, will doubtless give what it did last year—$50.

So there is $200 of the Easter hunt fund already raised.

It will take at least $500 to give such a hunt as the children deserve, and the balance of the money will be subscribed by public spirited citizens who will be called upon by a special Easter egg hunt committee.

Merchants will be asked to contribute prizes, as they have in the past, and they will doubtless be only too glad to do so.

Hunt Is Agreed Upon.

The question of holding an Easter egg hunt was brought up in Tuesday's meeting of the park commission, and a committee was appointed to make a report. It was out a few minutes and reported that they believed the hunt should be held, and recommended that the press be asked to co-operate. As a representative of The Constitution, Gordon N. Hurtel was present. He was asked if his paper would take hold of the hunt and he replied that it would. The commission voted to hold the hunt and donated $100.

W. C. Puckett, R. A. Burnett, T. L. Bond, J. O. Cochran and Mr. Hurtel, of The Constitution.

The committee will meet in a few days and begin a canvass for raising the money and the prizes.

It is stated that at least 200,000 eggs will be bought and several hundred prizes secured. The eggs will be hidden in the north end of Grant park, as was done last year.

The details of the big hunt will be agreed upon by the committee within the next week.

Books for State Election and Primaries Close April 2.

Four weeks from midnight last night, the registration books for the state election this year and all intervening elections including primaries, will be closed in accordance with law.

Those not registered by midnight of April 2, will be denied the privilege of voting in the state primary, the state election or any other election which may be held between that date and Wednesday, October 2, the date of the state election.

The registration books were opened in October, 1911, at the same time with the opening of the books for the collection of taxes, by the tax collector in each county in the state.

He Will Be Qualified.

Any voter who registered following the opening of the voters' books in October last, will be qualified to vote in all elections held in 1912, and, without additional legislation, in all elections held in 1913, provided he pays taxes for 1912 at the time they are due.

Any registration prior to the opening of the voters' books and tax books in October, 1911, does not hold—a registration in August or September, 1911, for example, would not be effective for this year's elections.

Every two years the state makes a clean sweep in the matter of registration under the present law, starts anew, as it were, and the start is made incident to the regular election year.

The present registration arrangement is very similar to the old one under which the state operated for many years, with the single exception that it requires the closing of the reg-

HARDWICK HEARS SENATORIAL BEE

Rumor Says He Will Announce Candidacy Soon.

Apparently straight announcement comes from Washington city to the effect that Congressman Tom Hardwick, of the Tenth Georgia district, will enter the contest for the United States senate against Senator A. O. Bacon, in the primary to be held this summer.

A well-known gentleman who has just returned from Washington stated yesterday that he had it straight that Congressman Hardwick would make formal announcement immediately after the meeting of the state democratic committee in Georgia on the 12th instant—that he was already engaged in lining up his forces for a contest against Senator Bacon and that Senator Bacon had received word from numerous sources that he might as well prepare for such a contest as Congressman Hardwick was undoubtedly shaping things to that end.

Neither Will Talk.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 5.—(Special.—On being seen in reference to the report that Congressman Hardwick would offer for the United States senate against Senator Bacon in the forthcoming Georgia primary, neither Senator Bacon nor Congressman Hardwick would comment on the situation.

Undoubtedly, however, Congressman Hadwick has the matter under serious advisement, and his announcement at any time would not be surprising.

"CLEAN ATLANTA BEFORE SUMMER DAYS ARE HERE"

President of Health Board Gilbert Praises Editorial in The Constitution.

"The Constitution never started a more needd or a more timely campaign than it outlined in its editorial Tuesday morning. Both the officials of Atlanta and her citizens should heed The Constitution's word of warning and begin right now to get the city clean and in a healthy condition before the summer days arrive."

These are the words of Dr. W. L. Gilbert, president of the board of health, and he voices the sentiment of other officials to whom has been confided the city's health.

Health Officer J P. Kennedy gives out a statement in which he agrees with the stand taken by The Constitution, and discusses what should be done to carry out the plan to "clean up."

To Eliminate Earth Closets.

W. Z. Smith, general manager of the waterworks department, makes a statement about water taps which have been made with the bond money so as to get rid of the earth closets.

Captain R. M. Clayton, chief of construction, tells about the condition of the streets and why they are not in a better condition.

All agree that the city needs a cleaning up and that the work should not be delayed a day longer.

It is admitted that Atlanta has enough health regulating laws, and that the regulations, if carried out, would be a safeguard against dirt and filth; but it is stated that the enforcement of health laws depends as much upon the individual citizen as upon the officers of the law.

City Must Be Clean.

What is wanted is a clean city before summer has arrived. If the fault lies with the officials, state those who have read The Constitution's editorial, and who have studied the situation, then let the officials get busy. If the fault is a lack of money, then let the city council and its finance committee get busy. If the fault is with the people themselves, let Atlanta be cleaned up. That's the way the matter presents itself to those who coincide with The Constitution's statement that above everything else and beyond all other civic improvements, the back yards should be clean, the surface closets should be dispensed with, the garbage should be burned and not dumped over the city, and the streets should be put in good condition.

Now that the ball has been started to rolling, the health department, it is understood, will take the matter up at once and every public official whose duty it is to look after cleanliness of the community will get to work to see that the campaign for cleaner Atlanta is carried on vigorously from now on until the work is completed.

A Most Timely Move.

When asked about the matter, Dr. W. L. Gilbert, president of the board of health, said:

"I read with great pleasure the timely editorial in The Constitution. Nothing that was ever started for the good

Wounded Man Accused Her at St. Joseph's Infirmary Last Night, Say Detectives.

SUFFERED FOR HOURS BEFORE HE WAS ABLE TO TELEPHONE POLICE

When Officers Arrived at His Residence They Found the House Securely Locked and Were Obliged to Break His Door With an Ax—Mrs. Grace Had Gone to Newnan—On Her Return She Declined to Talk.

Eugene H. Grace, of the Grace-Lawrence Building Company, was found seriously wounded by a pistol shot from one of his own pistols, in his home, 29 West Eleventh street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, after he had summoned the police by telephone and they had used an axe to gain entrance to the house.

His bride of a year, Mrs. Daisy Ulrich Obie-Grace, formerly a wealthy widow of Philadelphia, was arrested last night by Detectives Bullard and Doyal and in a warrant issued by Judge Ridley she is charged with assault with intent to murder.

Accuses Wife, Say Police.

"Daisy, you are the one who shot me," Grace is alleged by the police to have accused his wife when she saw him at St. Joseph's infirmary last night, after her return from Newnan, where she had gone in the morning.

"Why, how can you?" she answered indignantly. "You are trying to make me out a murderer and they will take me to jail tonight."

"You are the one who tried to kill me," he repeated, according to the detectives.

"If you persist in that," she is said to have threatened, "I am going to stop all proceedings and take the power of attorney for my property away from you."

A little later, the statement of the wounded man, made to officers, had changed to, "I don't know who did it." Mrs. Grace steadily maintained her innocence and last night refused to answer any questions which were asked her by reporters.

Is He Rational?

Doubt as to the wounded man's rationality was suggested last night in the detective office, as soon as the warrant was served on Mrs. Grace, and she was told that she would have to spend the night locked up. His mother, Mrs. S. L. Hill, of Newnan, was the first to mention it, just after Chief Lanford had said that they were holding Mrs. Grace on the statements of her husband, as well as other evidence.

"How do you know he was in his right mind?" asked Mrs. Hill.

FLAMES DESTROY SEVEN BUILDINGS

Mayor Winn Witnesses Fire at Lakewood Heights.

Fire of an unknown origin last night between 8 and 11 o'clock completely destroyed four stores and three residences in Lakewood Heights, a small suburb six miles southwest of the heart of the city. As the burning buildings were almost 200 yards outside the city limits, nothing could be done by the fire companies sent to the scene.

The damage is roughly estimated at $10,000. The losing property owners are Jesse Sewell, whose two stores and residence were burned down, at a loss of $4,000; R. H. Poole's store, $2,700; Dr. Stuckey's pharmacy, building and contents, $1,200; Mrs. Robert Steele's residence, $700, and the residence of Mrs. Stevens, $1,500.

The flames originated in the rear of Stuckey's pharmacy. At 8 o'clock they were discovered, and had gained great headway. Fanned by a brisk wind, they quickly spread to other houses The fire department was helpless, because the water plugs were too far away.

At 9 o'clock Mayor Winn was appealed to by citizens of Lakewood Heights. He was presiding over a committee meeting in the city hall, and with several members of council rushed to the fire in the emergency truck of the waterworks department. With the mayor were Claude Mason, James L. Mayson, Aldine Chambers, Orville Hall, W. Zode Smith and W. M. Rapp.

Several men, however, were badly shocked by heavily charged electric and trolley wires fallen to the ground and one or two were so badly hurt it was necessary for them to be removed to their homes.

STRIKE BABIES LOCKED IN CELLS WITH CRIMINALS

STORIES OF BRUTALITY TOLD BEFORE MRS. TAFT

President's Wife at the Hearing Where Witnesses Described Conditions in Massachusetts Mill City—Clubbing of Mothers and Babes Described by Teacher.

Washington, March 5.—C. F. Lynch, commissioner of public safety at Lawrence, Mass., who has charge of the police department there, today told the house rules committee, which is hearing testimony on conditions in the mill strike in that city, that he did not know by what authority of law women with babies in arms had been taken to the police station after the riot at the depot.

Under questioning by Representative Stanley, Lynch said none of the parents of the children had appealed to him against their being taken away, but he understood from one of his police captains that all of them did not have permission to leave.

"Did you see in the jail after the struggle at the depot, women and children and women with babies in arms?" asked Representative Stanley.

"Yes, I saw them there, but they weren't in jail."

"How were they restrained? Weren't they free to go if they wanted to?"

Brought to Be Held.

"They were brought there to be held until their cases had been disposed of."

"They were brought there by the police, then, and did you ask any of these mothers whether they were incarcerated because they had tried to keep their children from being kidnaped or because they tried to send them away?"

"No, I did not," replied Lynch.

"By what warrant were those mothers and children there?"

"I didn't know what the law was on that subject."

"Well, then, just why were they arrested?" persisted Mr. Stanley.

"I don't think they were, and I didn't know at the station whether they were mothers or not," replied Lynch.

The child strikers who were brought on before the committee to testify in its hearings on the two congressional resolutions of investigation of conditions at Lawrence concluded their testimony today, and members of the citizens' committee of Lawrence were heard.

Mrs. William H. Taft attended the hearing and gave close attention to

The Florida Congressman Goes After the Florida Governor.

Clark Calls Gilchrist "This Little Pinhead Governor." Says That Gilchrist Has Been in League With Landsharks Who Rob the Public.

Washington, March 5.—Representative Clark, of Florida, made a sensational attack on Governor Gilchrist in the house today. It was in reply to a purported interview from the governor in which he is alleged to have expressed surprise at the attitude of Representative Clark in the Everglades investigation.

Said Clark:

"It remains for the governor of Florida—God pity the state—to travel all the way from Tallapoosa to Washington to insinuate now that I am working in the interest of western railroads. I brand that as a malicious, gratuitous and unqualified falsehood."

Mr. Clark said he had been prompted to start the inquiry because of the operations of "conscienceless land sharks" in misrepresenting such lands.

Mr. Clark said that Golchrist, before he was elected governor, had made a business of land exploitation.

"It is the conduct of conscienceless land sharks," he said, "that I'm trying to balk for the honor of my state. And yet the governor of my state says that in attacking the thieves I am attacking the state of Florida. If that is so, God help Florida."

Referring to Mr. Gilchrist as "this little pinhead governor," Mr. Clark said he rested his case with the people of his own district and felt certain of the result. He was applauded as he took his seat.

WILL SUSTAIN PARK MANAGER

Resignation Should Not Have Been Asked, Is Now Claimed.

So Investigating Committee, It Is Understood, Will Report to Park Commission—Aftermath of the Park Board Wrangle.

When the special committee, appointed some time ago by the park commission to investigate the park department, submits its report, it will state that he evidence secured will not show that General Manager Dan Carey should have been called upon by members of the commission to resign. That is, the report will declare that there has been no testimony brought before the committee which could have given any grounds for the request of the general manager's resignation.

While the committee has not yet framed its report, it is believed, from what has been learned, that it will contain nothing to reflect in any manner upon the general manager's official conduct, but, on the other hand, will show that he has been capable anl efficient.

Resolution Caused a Wrangle.

It will be remembered that last fall there was quite a wrangle in the park commission of 1911 growing out of a resolution which was adopted calling upon the general manager to resign. An effort was made to have the resolution reconsidered, but it failed, and the records still show that the commission wants the general manager to resign. It was stated by the author of the resolution, Commissioner J. O. Cochran, who is now the president of the board, and Commissioner Frank Wilby, that they had sufficient reasons to demand the resignation of the general manager, and they tried to furnish instances wherein the general manager was derelict in his duty. Those who voted for the resolution were Commissioners Cochran, Wilby, Puckett, Bond and Pitts; those voting against it were Commissioners Eubanks and Hurtel, Mayor Winn and Alderman Warren.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the general council to investigate the entire park department, but subsequently this action was rescinded, and the following committee of three apointed to investigate the department; M. B. Young, chairman; W. J. Anderson and R. A. Barnett. The committee had several sittings and heard from members of the commission and from employees of the department. A stenographer was employed at a cost of $35, and the evidence covers 176 type-written pages.

Will Make Recommendations.

While the committee, it is understood, will submit a report which will show that the resolution calling for the general manager's resignation was not warranted, it will make several recommendations which it is believed will improve the park system.

The committee was called upon for its report at a meeting of the park commission Tuesday afternoon, and, upon the request of the chairman, further time was wranted. Thereport will be submitted to the commission at a called meeting to be held some time next week.

The friends of General Manager Carey will be pleased to learn that the committee's report will be to his credit and that meeting of the commission acted inadvisedly in demanding his resignation.

TAFT DROPPED FOR ROOSEVELT

By Vote of 27 to 1, the Committee Indorses the Candidacy of Roosevelt—Returns Show Roosevelt Supporters Control Oklahoma.

Fort Worth, Texas, March 5.—By a vote of 27 to 1, the candidacy of Colonel Roosevelt was indorsed today by the Texas state republican executive committee. Supporters of Taft thereupon decided to carry their fight in his behalf before the voters by some method yet to be worked out.

Several hundred well-known Texas republicans were here, attracted by the committee meeting.

The executive committeee's action in favor of Roosevelt was generally expected. Mr. Taft's name was not mentioned except in referring to general affairs of his administration.

SUPPORTERS OF ROSEVELT IN CONTROL IN OKLAHOMA

Oklahoma City, Okla., March 5.—Chairman Perry, of the Roosevelt campaign committee, is today claiming 330 delegates for Roosevelt in the state republican convention, and concedes only 78 to Taf. Sixty of he delegates are recorded as being doubtful and contested, and 85 are yet to be heard from.

The returns are authentic enough to show that Roosevelt suppoters will be in absolute control of the state convention at Guthrie, March 14.

BY FELLOW CHURCHMEN CHAMP CLARK IS AIDED

Chicago, March 5.—E. E. Campbell, political manager for Speaker Champ Clark, in Illinois, has sent these four elders of the Christian church, of which Speaker Clark is a member, to do stump speaking for Mr. Clark in Kansas; R. S. Hill, of Indiana; C. S. Brooks, Portsmouth, Ohio; J. D. H. Smith, Oklahoma City, and F. A. Mayfield, St. Louis.

IF TAFT WANTS PERSONALITIES ROOSEVELT WILL ACCOMMODATE

Washington, March 5.—"If personalities are wanted in this campaign, we'll give them more than they expect," declared Chairman Dixon of the Roosevelt executive committee, today, replying to a statement from the Taft bureau in which attention was called to the location of Roosevelt headquarters in a building owned by Frank A. Munsey.

"We elected Taft four years ago out of the International Harvester company building in Chicago. So far as I know, no rent was paid for the rooms.

"Four years ago when I was trying to elect Taft, Mr. McKinley, now head of the Taft committee, was down south rounding up delegates for Speaker Cannon."

ROOSEVELT MEN IN ALABAMA BITTERLY ATTACK TAFT METHODS

Mobile, Ala., March 5.—"Supporters of the administration had just as well hand out actual cash as to obtain the good will of republicans in this part of the country by handing out offices. It is straight bribery, only it is under the modest dress of 'patronage.'" Thus Major W. F. Tebbetts, collector of the port of Mobile under Roosevelt, and chairman of an anti-Taft meeting held here tonight, set forth the proposition which, he says, the mass of republicans of the state will fight to a finish.

Resolutions were adopted indorsing the state meeting in behalf of Roosevelt called for March 16 at Birmingham and favoring the adoption of a presidential primary system for the selection of delegates to the national convention. Action was necessary owing, as stated in the preamble, "to the irregular methods of certain officeholders in preventing a free expression of the opinions of republicans as to their choice of a candidate for the presidential nomination." Following the Birmingham convention a mass meeting is planned at which Gifford Pinchot has been invited to speak.

COL. ROOSEVELT IS SATISFIED WITH PROGRESS OF CAMPAIGN

Oyster Bay, N. Y., March 5.—Reports that the Roosevelt movement was making steady progress were brought to Colonel Roosevelt today and when he returned to Oyster Bay tonight from New York he had the air of a man well satisfied with the day's work.

The colonel was asked whether he was going to the Chicago convention to fight it out.

"Why no," he responded. "I haven't even thought of it; of course not." He said, too, that he had no intention of attending the New York state conven-

William Allen White, the Kansas editor, was probably the most enthusiastic Roosevelt boomer who visited the colonel today. He said frankly that Kansas had been for La Follette "until his candidacy became impossible," but added that it was for Roosevelt now. He thought that the colonel already had two-fifths of the delegates of the entire country.

In the morning Colonel Roosevelt is going to Mineola, the county seat, to serve as a juror.

Women Form Roosevelt Club.

Sunny Side, Wash., March 5.—The first Roosevelt club of women voters so far as is known in the United States has been formed here. A full corps of officers was elected and a campaign in behalf of the colonel's candidacy decided upon.

the testimony of the riot at the station.

Max Bogatin, of Philadelphia, a witness yesterday, recalled today, said he had seen babies, little boys and girls in cells, locked up. Women arrested in the riot, he said, had been fined $1 for blocking the sidewalk.

George E. Rower, Jr., a Boston attorney, appearing for the strike committee, declared he had difficulty in getting court officials to show him complaints against the children.

Josephine Liss, a striker, testified that when she went out for a walk a soldier stopped her with a bayonet and swore at her. Then she struck him with her muff and was arrested for assault, locked up and fined $10. On another occasion, she testified, she had seen a woman struck on the head by a policeman with a club, and had seen men beaten until their heads were covered with blood.

Miss Tema Camitta, a Philadelphia vocal student and Sunday school teacher and a member of one of the committee that sought to get the children out of Lawrence, told of the scenes at the railroad station in Lawrence. She related how she had endeavored to lead the children from the station to the train.

"For some reason the children got out ahead of me," she said, "and instantly the woman and children were hurled into a struggling mass by the police. I was squeezed against the wall of the waiting room and was terribly frightened.

"You're Killing Them."

"The crowd in front of me was so dense that I could see little. I called out to the police, 'Be careful of the children! You're killing them!' Later when I sought to accompany them to the police station I was told that I'd better stay away or I'd be clubbed, too."

Miss Camitta admitted that she saw no clubbing of women or children in the station, nor any injured after the affray.

"I did see the police clubbing women in the patrol wagon," she said. "The wagon was crowded and the police were thrusting the women about with their clubs."

It was while Miss Camitta was testifying that Mrs. Taft arrived at the committee room. She appeared to take great interest in the proceedings and remained throughout the morning.

Miss Camitta told of detectives visiting the homes of parents of Lawrence children, threatening them if they sent their children away.

"In all cases where children were to be taken to Philadelphia," asked Chairman Henry, "did you have the parents' consent?"

"In every case," she said.

"There was nothing in the nature of kidnaping?"

"Absolutely not, and we took every precaution to assure that the homes intended for the children should have the best possible surroundings."

Simon Knebel, another member of the committee from Philadelphia and organizer of the Industrial Workers of the World, was the next witness.

"This system of taking children from strike towns is a system that's going to prevail in this country in the future in labor wars," said Knebel.

Hardwick Asks Questions.

"It's imported from Europe, isn't it?" asked Representative Hardwick.

"Well, it's been used in Europe," said Knebel, "but that's not the only reason it should be tried here."

"I just wanted to know the fact," said Mr. Hardwick.

"We grouped the children in a file of two and started to send them out of the depot door. Then we saw two lines of police. Just as we left the door the police started their bloody work.

"The children and their parents began to pass through this line of police. The police tore the children from their mothers. They were screaming. I saw one policeman strike a pregnant woman.

"When I came out I was stooping over four or five children. Immediately three or four policemen got hold of me and wrestled me all over the place. They didn't want to arrest me. They dragged me until my knee bled and twisted my foot. When they got me away they went back. Then I went back. I couldn't see women and children hurt that way. I did not care if I was getting murdered that day."

Many Women Beaten.

"How many women did you see beaten that day?" asked Mr. Henry.

"I saw a whole wagon load of injured. I saw one young woman, not a striker, clubbed by a policeman. She was struck several times in the back. Finally they arrested me and I was kept in the station house hours with women and children in cells.

"I come from Pennsylvania. That state hasn't got such a good record for police. But the Pennsylvania constabulary never dared or contemplated such brutality on women and children as have the police of Lawrence in this state."

"The interstate commerce law was violated when I, who had bought a railroad ticket, was prevented from taking a train."

In the police station where he was locked up, Knebel said that all day the eighteen children were not given anything to eat.

"Some of the husbands whose wives were locked up brought children to their mothers to be nursed.

Babies Locked With Criminals.

"Were the children actually locked up in the same kind of cells where thieves and criminals were locked up?" asked Representative Pou.

Knebel answered yes.

"Were others fined besides you?"

"Yes. Everyone of the mothers was fined, and it made no difference what the testimony was. They took the policeman's word for it."

Miss Margaret Sanger, of New York, a trained nurse, who was instrumental in taking children from Lawrence to New York, testified. She said the condition of many of the children was horrible.

"Out of 119 children, only four of them had any underwear on,' said Miss Sanger.

"And these people working in a woolen mill?" asked Representative Stanley.

"Yes."

"Was their outer clothes wool?" asked Representative Foster.

"No; most of the clothing was rags."

Miss Sanger said the doctors examined the children in New York and that most of them were sick and emaciated.

"You ought to have seen the children eat when we got them to New York," said Miss Sanger. "They grabbed the meat and ate it with their hands, they were so hungry."

CONGRESS COMMITTEE URGED TO PROBE ATLANTA POSTOFFICE

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, March 5.—(Special.)—Representative McCoy, of New Jersey, has made a written report to Chairman Ashbrook, of house committee on postoffices and post roads, recommending that a sub-committee be sent to Atlanta to investigate complaints against the postal service. The committee held its first meeting in a week today, but adjourned after a short executive session. It will meet again tomorrow, when action on Mr. McCoy's suggestion will probably be had. Representative Howard is co-operating with Mr. McCoy, and the two are doing what they can to interest the apathetic committee in postal deficiencies in Atlanta and the unwarranted persecutions undertaken there by postal inspectors.

In this connection, Senator Bristow's statement on yesterday in introducing his reason for investigation of the potsal inspectors is of interest. "Inspectors have been called the eyes and ears of the department," he said, "but they are also the men who are expected to maintain discipline, and when these men are carried away by their passions or prejudices, discipline goes to smash."

PREVENTING WIFE'S SUICIDE HUSBAND LOSES OWN LIFE

Asheville, N. C., March 5.—Walter A. Harrison, 27 years old, was shot to death by his 20-year-old wife as he lay in bed this morning at his home in this city. The young wife admitted that she shot him, though she maintained that the killing was accidental. Tonight she declared that she was about to commit suicide when her husband awoke and sought to take the pistol from her hands. In the struggle, she says, the weapon was discharged, the bullet taking effect in the right side.

Mrs. Harrison until recently was a patient at the Statesville sanitarium, where she was treated for mental derangement. She left the hospital about a month ago and since her return to this city is said to have brooded over the fact that her husband had sent their 7-months-old child to the home of her (Mrs. Harrison's) parents at Hickory, this state.

The coroner's jury this evening returned a verdict to the effect that the deceased came to his death from a bullet wound inflicted by his wife. Mrs. Harrison is being held at the county jail pending an examination by a sanity commission.

KUBELIK'S ART TOO GREAT TO APPEAR SENSATIONAL

The height af art in musical expression we thoughtlessly expect to be sensational. There is no reason, more than in the plastic art or that of letters, unless it be that we have grown so accustomed to the eccentric among musical artists that we have come to confuse the music with the musician.

But true it is, and so the more remarkable the kind of appreciation given Jan Kubelik last night. For his art is so transcendent, it is no longer apparent, if that condition may be thus described which makes wonders and marvels seem like A B C. The virtuosity of the violinist was so perfect and his manner so unostentations that the enthusiasm which he awakened would have done credit to a seasoned and much more critical musical audience than Atlanta has an opportunity to be.

He appeared under the auspices of the Atlanta Music Festival Association, and the size of his audience anywhere else than in the huge auditorium, would have been most gratifying. Their pleasure, even the great artist, sated with applause, must have enjoyed.

The same program he might give with felicity and assurance of appreciation, however, in Boston, Mass., or in Waycross, Ga. Bach, for instance, is, in his hands, truly the master mind, reserved and aloof, but equally the human spirit with his point of contact for the average man; and the Tschaikowsky concerto, which was intended primarily for that element of his audience which takes its own score along, was obliged, on account of the absolute clarity of the interpretation, to reach a much larger element.

Kubelik's technical command of the violin includes all that command or mastery implies. He controls a tone with a finesse that seems scarcely credible to one's own ears. He makes a whole orchestra at one moment sound on a single string, and again he makes a unit of the full resources of the violin, resources that only a few of the elect among virtuosi have even conceived.

And all the time he translates the individual atmosphere of the piece, making each number a picture so well silhouetted against the general background that it might have been played by another musician than all the rest.

The Bach Air on the G string—surely it has never been played before with the depth and purity of tone and feeling which Kubelik drew out of it—and then a delicately chiseled Gavotte, as graphic as the Dvorak Humoresque. Hubay's Scene de la Carda and the height of the picturesque, but they were as brilliantly different in their interest as a fine landscape and a group of dancers, while the Havanaise, by Saint-Saens, was the refinement of Spanish manner in contrast with the glitter and variety of Moscow.

Through every varying character of composition and mood, Kubelik was always, in apperance, the devote, reverent of his idol—music; and in every whisper of the strings, every infinite adjustment of the bow, was this same spirit of reverence apparent. It makes the perfection of his work as it makes the universal interest of it, and it is the source, to, of the semblance of simplicity.

Ludwig Schwab, at the piano, was the ideal accompanist, unobtrusive, and in unvarying sympathy and accord.

Swallowing Glory.

(From an Exchange.)

"I'm full of glory."

"What on earth do you mean, child?" the father hastened to ask.

AFTER ONE "WET" YEAR, MONTPELIER GOES "DRY"

Burlington, Vt., March 5.—Montpelier, the capital city of the state, returned to the no-license ranks in the annual election today. The city had been in the "wet" column but one year. Six towns also changed to no-license. As a result, there will be but 22 of the 246 cities and towns in the state where the saloon is legalized during the coming year. The cities of St. Albans, Burlington, Vergennes and Rutland voted in favor of licenses and Barre against it.

CIGARS UNITED
Opening of a United Cigar Store

In annoucing the opening of a UNITED CIGAR STORE next Satuaday, at Peachtree and Decatur Streets, we want to make one or two facts plain.

We come to Atlanta because we believe there is plenty of room for us here.

There is no spirit of "conquest" about our enterprise.

Usually the retail cigar business takes on new life when we come to town—there is more hustle and all thrive in a spirit of good-natured rivalry—fair, square competition. That is business.

It is a race and the largest winner is he who gives the consumer the most or the best for his money.

In a big hustling growing city like Atlanta there is constant increase in the cigar business—all lines of business.

There are hundreds of places where cigars are sold in Atlanta. If we do our level best we will get our share of the increase. We know we will never get any more than we earn and deserve, and we expect to hustle for all we get.

NO CONFESSION, SAYS W. B. WALKER

Macon, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—William B. Walker, the man condemned to hang on Friday of this week for burning his wife to death, has requested the county physician, Dr. O. C. Gibson, to announce to the public that reports that he is "weakening" are erroneous, and that the statement he is preparing for publication is anything but a confession.

Walker has denied himself to all callers, other than Father T. D. Madden and Dr. Gibson, but the pubication of statements that he was weakening in the shadow of the gallows and was preparing a confession prompted him to utterance. Dr. Gibson says that Walker declares vehemently that he will never confess, and still insists that he is innocent.

Wife Charges Girl.

Macon, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Charging that Miss Mary Calhoun, a pretty young woman of south Macon, has alienated her hubsand's affections, Mrs. Mary V. Porch has sworn out a peace warrant against the young lady in Justice Burnett's court. The case will be tried tomorrow afternoon. Porch is a railroad man. His wife charges that he has taken Miss Calhoun to picture shows, street car riding and to other places. The young lady denies the charges. More than fifty witnesses have been summoned, and both parties have engaged attorneys.

Young married man, with good references, who is willing to work, and who knows Macon well, offers to sell himself into slavery for his keep. I have got to eat. Will go to any city or county, anywhere. Address J. E. Barnett, 1840 Green street, Augusta, Ga."

The mansion has been undergoing repairs for the last month. A lot of defective plastering, which had fallen, had to be replaced, and the building has been repainted and otherwise overhauled. Governor and Mrs. Brown remained in Marietta while the improvements were being made.

MAN SHOT TO DEATH BY DEMENTED WIFE

SUES RAILWAY AS CONSPIRATOR IN LYNCHING OF HER HUSBAND

New Orleans, La., March 5.—A jury of twelve men will have to decide the question of whether or not the Vicksburg, Shreveport and Pacific Railroad Company was a co-conspirator in the lynching of Robert T. Rogers at Tallulah, La., in 1907. The United States circuit court of appeals today reversed the decision of the lower court which gave a verdict for the defense in the suit for damages brought by the widow of Rogers against the railroad company.

In the lower court the presiding judge, on motion of counsel for the railroad company, instructed the jury to bring in a verdict for the defendant. The court of appeals today held that the question of whether or not the railroad company participated as a conspirator, or otherwise, in the lynching was one solely for a jury to consider.

Rogers was held in jail at Tallulah on the charge of murdering a man named Brown and was taken out and lynched by a mob which, the petition in the present suit alleges, was headed by a brother of Brown. Annie May Rogers, the plaintiff, alleged that a special train was chartered of the defendant railroad company to take the mob to Tallulah, that frequent stops were made en route to pick up members of the mob, and that as soon as the lynching was over the train was made ready for the return trip and conveyed the lynching party back to their homes.

JURORS BY EARS IN KIMMEL CASE

Religion and Lodge Affiliations Got to Work and Caused Mistrial.

St. Louis, March 5.—The third hearing of the Kimmel identity mystery and insurance contest ended in a mistrial this afternoon, whne the jury, which had been out seventy-three hours, was discharged by Federal Judge Amidon. The judge's action was taken after jurors had made statements which showed not only that there was no hope of agreement, but that bitter personal animosity was developing between two factions of the jury.

The factional strife went so far as to reopen the question supposed to have been settled by Monday's partial report of the jury whether the Kimmel claimant was George A. Kimmel.

The jury at the finish, and through most of the recent balloting, stood 9 to 3 for the plaintiff.

Explanations made by various jurors of their attitude showed that dissension had increased rapidly among them in the last few hours of of their three days together and that religion and lodge affiliation had played an important part in keeping them from getting on a common ground of understanding.

The foreman told Judge Amidon when the jurors were called before him for the last time that no agreement was possible. Then Juror McMyler handed Judge Amidon a communication which read that the agreement that the claimant was not the claimant had not been unanimous, and it was not to be effective unless the verdict was for the defene.

The foreman protested to Judge Amidon that McMyler's paper misrepresented the true opinion of the jurors. Judge Amidon ended the discussion by dismissing the jury.

HOWARD WANTS PAROLE FOR LIFE PRISONERS

Washington, March 5.—(Special.)—Prisoners serving life terms in United States penitentiaries will be eligible for parole under the terms of existing statute after completing fifteen years' service if a bill now before the house, with a favorable report from the judiciary committee, becomes a law.

Representative William Schley Howard, of Georgia, the author of the bill, is hopeful of its passage. He says:

"The measure simply extends a ray of hope to men who now have none except such as comes from the remote possibility of an executive pardon. It is a just and a humane measure, based on the principle embodied in the existing parole law.

"It proposes to allow the poor devils who have served fifteen years and made a good record to go out once more among free men and with a chance to make good. I have strong hopes of its passing both houses."

COUPLED GRASSHOPPERS, BUGS AND INSURGENTS

Washington, March 5.—(Special.)—Representative Louis B. Hanna, of North Dakota, a republican, made an effort during the consideration of the agricultural bill in the house today to get an allowance for an investigation of the grasshoppers that injure the soil products of the west. He moved to amend the bill for that purpose.

"And I move to amend the amendment," said Representative Hughes, of New Jersey, a democrat, "by adding chinch bugs and insurgents."

"I'll never consent," declared Representative Thomas Heflin, of Alabama, another democrat, "unless you include flying jennies and doodle bugs."

Needless to say, the house turned down the whole proposition.

CRY OF JINGOISM MEANS SLAUGHTER

Secretary Stimson Utters a Warning in Regard to Mexico and China.

Chicago, March 5.—"The utterer of a cry of jingoism relative either to China or Mexico, is going to be responsible for the slaughter of an untold number of innocent foreigners in those countries," declared War Secretary Stimson here today. "We are watching the situation closely, and the armies in both countries are carefully keeping away from foreign residents. Immediately they get an idea that our armies are hovering near to gobble land instead of to protect our countrymen, they will wreak their vengeance on foreigners."

DEMOCRATS IN CLASH OVER FREE SUGAR BILL

Washington, March 5.—A spirited clash among democratic members of the house, over the free sugar tariff bill reported today, marked consideration of the agricultural appropriation bill. Representative Garner, of Texas, democrat, sought to have adopted an amendment to the agricultural measure providing $5,000 for investigation and experiments with sugar producing plants in the Rio Grande valley in Texas.

Representative Martin, of Colorado, democrat, offered a substitute amendment to grant that amount to the state of Colorado. He arraigned Representative Garner for endeavoring to curry political favor with his constituents at the expense of the government.

"My friend from Texas," said Representative Martin, "realizing that his support of the free sugar bill, a 'bunk' political measure is indefensible, hopes to restore himself to the favor of his constituents by going home to them with $5,000 in government money in his vest pocket with which to pursue an inquiry into the industry his bill would destroy."

Mr. Garner declared the criticism unfair and "wholly unjustifiable," charging that in refusing to vote for the sugar revision bill Mr. Martin had betrayed his party.

Both amendments and two similar ones offered by Representatives Mondell, of Wyoming, and Lever, of South Carolina, were voted down. The incident was smoothed over by an apology by Mr. Martin.

PRIEST OF SUN CULT ARRESTED SECOND TIME

Chicago, March 5.—Immediately after he had been released on $10,000 bonds in the federal court late today, "Dr." Otoman Zarh-Adusht Hanish, high priest of the Mazdaznan "Sun Worshipers" cult, arrested yesterday on a federal warrant charging the shipping of obscene literature by express, was rearrested on a state warrant, sworn out by State's Attorney Wayman.

Hanish was taken before Judge Goodnow on the state charge of possessing and circulating obscene literature. He gave $1,000 bond and retired to his "temple," where he held a conference with friends.

When the body left the wheel it was thrown 25 feet into the air. The accident occurred so quickly that rescue was impossible. Ezell leaves a wife and several children.

WANT LOW SHOES TIED WITH LACE

Southern Retailers Give Next Convention to City of Chattanooga.

Lace shoes rather than button shoes for feet that walk within the Southern Shoe Dealers' Association's territory was the decree sent forth by that organization during the second day's session of its third annual convention.

Already the association had gone on record as against the prevalent high heel shoe with the heel's tendency to grow higher.

Declaration against the shoe with buttons came when a member of the convention presented a resolution protesting against the prices charged by the Elliott Button Company, and suggesting that the button shoe should therefore give way to the shoe with the lace.

President Meadors declared himself in favor of the movement, as did W. S. Byck, of Atlanta; J. C. Vaughn, of New Orleans, and others. The entire matter was referred to the standing committee on resolutions. The resolution committee was directed to oppose a bill pending in congress which requires all manufacturers to stamp their names on all articles produced by them.

W. T. Cox, of Birmingham, read a paper on advertising in which he placed newspaper advertising first as the most successful in its use by business men. Various kinds of advertising were dicussed in Mr. Cox's paper.

Chattanooga was chosen over Birmingham for the place of meeting next year, those being the only towns represented for the 1913 session.

The automobile ride about the city tendered the visitors for the afternoon attraction was postponed until this morning on account of the incessant rain. The machines tendered for the use of the visitors to the city will be assembled at the Piedmont this morning at 9:30 o'clock when the drive will be made to all points of interest.

The luncheon at the M. and M. Club at 12:30 proved most delightful, as did the banquet at the Piedmont last night.

BROWN WILL NOT SUCCEED WRIGHT

Governor Brown Denies Making Agreement of Any Sort.

There can be found no apparent foundation for the rumor which has been given circulation to the effect that J. J. Brown, of Bowman, Elbert county, is to be given the place of assistant to the commissioner of agriculture, which is now held by Captain R. F. Wright, who has been associated with the department for many years.

Governor Brown yesterday made most positive and emphatic denial of the report, so far as he was concerned, and stated that no agreement of that sort had entered in any way, shape or form into the consideration of the apointment of Hon. J. J. Connor, of Bartow, as commissioner of agriculture to succeed Commissioner T. G. Hudson on May 1.

Governor Brown stated that there was but one single condition on which he tendered the appointment to Mr. Connor, and that was that he was not to be in the race for the office before the primary of 1912. The governor did this because he wanted to give the appointment to Mr. Connor, and because he did not want to place in the position an active candidate for it. Outside of this he states there was no condition whatever and that he knows nothing whatever of the origin of the rumor with regard to Mr. Brown.

TOSSED FIFTY FEET; BOY LANDS UNHURT

Thrown 50 feet from the top of a fast flying box car, which had jumped the track, Conors Barrett, a young switchman, landed first on a string of telegraph wires and then fell softly into a mudmire without breaking even so much as a toe, or receiving a scratch.

Barrett was riding a rear car on a fast freight train as it passed Armour yesterday morning about 3 o'clock. The car suddenly jumped the track and threw him high into the air.

The station master at Armour, who witnessed the switchman's flight, immediately telegraphed into the city for an ambulance before he ascertained Barrett's injuries. Patterson's automobile ambulance brought him into the city, and later in the morning he resumed his run.

CHILD SWEPT FROM DECK OF VESSEL AND DROWNED

New Orleans, La., March 5.—The 17-months-old baby of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brooks, of 1020 West Thirty-ninth street, Kansas City, Mo., was swept from the decks of the steamer Orleanian in the harbor at Port Limon, Costa Rica, last Friday and drowned. The grief stricken parents arrived here last night on the Orleanian and will leave tomorrow for Kansas City.

The child was being taken ashore by Chief Steward Dixon when the vessel lurched, precipitating both into the water. Dixon was painfully injured by the fall and lost possession of the child, whose body was not recovered.

"WHITE SLAVE LAW" IS UPHELD BY COURT

Cincinnati, March 5.—That traffic in human beings can be regulated by the interstate commerce acts, as well as traffic in chattels, was held by the United States court of apeals here today in an opinion declared by Justice Dennisson. Accordingly the conviction of three women on the charge of violating the "white slave law" was upheld and the women ordered to serve their sentences.

The attorney for the women gave notice that he would carry the case to the supreme court of the United States to test the constitutionality of the ruling.

NERVOUS STRAIN SAPS VITALITY

Manner of Living in Present Age Taxes Reserve Power.

In a recent interview one of the physicians who are introducing the remarkable new tonic, "Tona Vita" to the American public, had this to say:

"The manner of living in the larger cities of the United States is such that perfect health is almost impossible; the human machine will not run true and strong day after day with its vitality continually being sapped by the constant nervous strain. Irregular hours, hastily eaten food, the wear and tear and rush of city life, are largely responsible for the immense amount of dull, listless, half-sick people of the present generation. Debility or a 'run down' condition as it is called, is everywhere. Half the people I see in street cars, restaurants, theaters, or on the street, are unmistakably in a debilitated condition, with their nerves in such a state that they either wish to lie down and rest or rush after some excitement.

"Any one who has met a constant stream of nervous debilitated people as I have since I began my present work, can tell a man or woman in this condition at a glance. I wish to emphatically state that the number of debilitated people in the larger American cities is appalling.

"'Tona Vita,' the medicine I am hoping to introduce, is to combat this condition. I believe it to be the best preparation ever before sold to the public, in that it is immediately effective in cases of debility and other troubles that go hand in hand with this disease."

You cannot hope to enjoy life or meet with much success if you are tired all the time, have little ambition, and feel continually depressed in mind and body. Every half-sick, worn-out man or woman owes it to themselves and their family to try "Tona Vita." If the tonic does not make life worth living and bring back the healthy, energetic spirit, that is now lacking, the price is refunded. Jacobs' Pharmacy has the agency for Tona Vita in Atlanta; also for Lee's Rhubarb Laxative, the purest and best family laxative on the market. Lee's Rhubarb Laxative will not injure the most delicate constitution. It is ideal for children. •••

DEMANDS OF THE MINERS REFUSED BY OPERATORS

New York, March 5.—The anthracite soal miners' demands for increased pay, recognition of the union, a shorter working day and other changes were unanimously rejected this afternoon by forty-seven operators. The operators adjourned sine die, after appointing a committee to acquaint the United Mine Workers of America with their decision. This committee was clothed with full power to act and will formulate its reply Monday for presentation to the miners March 13.

The decisive action of the operators was unexpected. It was believed that a compromise course would be suggested. After the morning, however, one of the operators declared that the action would not prevent the committee from making a counter proposition to the miners. The belief is growing among the operators that there would be no general strike of the 180,000 men in the Pennsylvania fields affected by the decision, he said, but the operators would rather face a general strike than advance wages 20 per cent, and in consequence be compelled to increase the price of coal.

RELIEF IS PROMISED TO GRAIN DEALERS

Washington, March 5.—Secretaries Nagel and Wilson, two members of the cabinet charged with enforcement of the pure food laws, today virtually advised representatives of the National Grain Dealers' Association that the pure food orders relating to transportation of grain in its natural state would be suspended.

Secretary Nagel expressed doubt that the pure food act was intended to apply to natural grain. No immediate decision was given, but Secretary Wilson told the grain men he would take the question up with his associates immediately.

Grain raisers, as well as merchants, are interested in the decision. One order promulgated related to sulphuring oats, and another held that corn having more than 19 per cent of moisture could not be sold except for distilling.

FATHER IS ACQUITTED UNDER UNWRITTEN LAW

Dallas, Texas, March 5.—Pleading as a defense that his 15-year-old daughter had been improperly approached, Patrolman J. K. Yates, of Fort Worth, was today found not guilty of the murder of Claude Styers, a Dallas accountant. Yates last March, after learning of Styers' conduct toward his daughter, borrowed car fare to Dallas, where he shot Styers fourteen times. The trial began yesterday.

PLEA FOR LIFE OF JEFFERSON

Strong Showing Is Made for Man Charged With Killing Officer.

The fate of James Jefferson, of Columbus, sentenced to be hanged in March 13 for the murder of Policeman Marion Marchant, is now in the hands of the prison commission and Governor Joseph M. Brown.

Jefferson's application for executive clemency, commutation to life imprisonment, was argued Tuesday before the prison commission, which will report on it to Governor Brown this morning when, at 10 o'clock, he will hear from the attorneys for the condtmned man.

A pretty strong case was presented in Jefferson's behalf, if petitions and personal requests from prominent citizens count for anything. In addition, it was claimed that new evidence has been discovered, and, among other things, it was stated to the commission that it could be proven that two of the state's witnesses were not at the scene of the crime, as they claimed. It was also claimed that Policeman Marchant, who was killed, was drinking at the time of the difficulty which resulted in the homicide.

Petitions urging commutation of sentence to life imprisonment, signed by about 3,000 citizens of Muscogee and other counties wtre placed before the commission. These included nearly every grand juror who found the true bill, nearly all of the lawyers of Columbus, all the county commissioners, Muscogee's representatives, four bank presidents and nearly every county officer.

Speeches were made before the commission in Jefferson's behalf by Judgt W. R. Jones, of Greenville; Hon. Walter P. Andrews and Hon. H. H. Cabaniss, of Atlanta; Hon. J. P. Heard, of Dooly; Judge E. J. Wynn, Hon. S. B. Hatcher, Rev. L. M. Colson, Judge A. M. Cozart and Hon. F. W. Garrard, of Columbus.

Representing the police force of Columbus, Hon. T. Hicks Fort made an argument against clemency and presented petitions urging a denial of the petition, signed by about 300 citizens of Muscogee.

Governor Brown took the papers home with him last night to begin a study of th case. He will hear the arguments today and will probably reach a decision by the end of the week.

MONTGOMERY PLANS BIG PACKING HOUSE

Montgomery, Ala., March 5.—(Special.)—A $300,000 packing house for Montgomery is now believed to be nearer a reality than at any time in the past. This is the most important business before the Business Men's League at present, and members of the league declare they will not let up in their efforts until the plan has been consummated. The league has been untiring in its efforts in this direction for more than a year, and has created a strong sentiment for the new industry, not only in Montgomery, but in several counties near here.

The league has adopted a resolution looking to the organization of a stock company with a $300,000 capital with the end in view of establishing a packing house in Montgomery within the near future, and it is announced that the plant will probably be built within the next few months.

Just now it is dangerous for American capitalists to cut "melons" at their mines in Mexico.

It will be impossible for the Baltimore hotelkeepers to gouge. The food trust beat 'em to it long ago.

Woodrow Wilson objects to the houn'-dawg song; notwithstanding popular clamor votes it "a classic."

The suffragettes are trying to raise a big campaign fund, and you won't see any hats with fine trimming in the ring.

It seems reasonable to hope for a March thaw, but latest reports are that the ruffian is still leading a snow-battle.

If La Follette would tiptoe and keep his pompadour standing on end he might measure up better with the tall timber.

If Mr. Morgan is a trifle out on Scripture quotations he can explain with the statement that $50,000 Bibles are too costly to handle.

Also, the reports of Dr. Wiley's "resignation" were greatly exaggerated. He is a good man, but there's where he isn't different.

March the 4th should have been a day of celebration. Only a year from that date the next democratic president will be inaugurated.

Good idea to apply a feather duster to the constitution at lea t once a year, but the country is opposed to pounding it with a big stick.

He doesn't care to have the nomination handed him on a golden platter. They can hide it under his hat, while he makes believe he isn't looking.

Hereafter, when officeholders announce that they will not try the track again, they should be careful to add a footnote—"Subject to recall."

No bands meet him at the railway stations, and so far they haven't stopped the press to insert in the 1912 almanacs: "On this day T. R. threw his hat in the ring."

Doubtless, George Bailey's Houston angels had a holiday in heaven while the big fire was blazing, although there are any quantity of wing-feathers at the millinery stores.

"We couldn't hardly get along without the colonels in politics," says The Philadelphia Press. Especially the interesting stunt of trying to make a broncho leap a third-term wall.

He didn't get that idea of the milk of campaign kindness from the white house cow. Even that worthy animal ought to feel mad enough to kick the pail from the clutch of the cowboys.

It is said that "the son of the Gaekwar of Baroda can't get along on $250 a week college expenses." If his education hasn't been neglected, why not try the prize-fight features on the side?

Expect this sort of campaign song from the Taft wing:
"He's in the race, but he'll sure be 'downed,'

BEWILDERED SOUTHERN PIE-HUNTERS.

A volume could be written upon the present woes of the southern federal officeholder, and then reveal only a fraction of the nightmares that disturb his slumbers and the phantoms that stalk by his side at noonday. What is he to do with Mr. Taft whispering a blend of sweet promises and threats on one side of him; while on the other, the Colonel alternately offers to underwrite the continuance of his job and brandishes the big stick over his bowed head?

It may safely be surmised that he makes a dash for the newspaper each morning, to see if one or the other aspirant has the bulge on the other, that he may receive light upon his own course. For while a certain percentage of the attaches of the so-called "southern republican machine" are going to respect their allegiance though the political heavens fall, it is probable that the larger element is engaged in an agonizing guessing contest as to the direction in which the nomination cat is going to jump.

The spectacle of a republican presidential nomination—possibly the presidency itself—being arbitrated by politicians from states that will not cast one electoral vote for the ticket is, of course, no more palatable now than at any time since the civil war. We cannot censure Mr. Taft since he is merely following precedent, and since it is a moral certainty that the Colonel, despite his show of virtue at present, would lose no time in corralling the southern delegates if Mr. Taft did not beat him to the field.

Aside from this feature and the inherent humor of the situation, the wonder is that those bona fide republican states that roll up actual majorities for the party election after election, gain their own consent to have their influence almost nullified in the national conventions. Some of these days the existing paradoxical and unlovely arrangement will fall of its own weight. Until then the quadrennial scramble now proceeding will minister to the gayety of nations!

ONE-SIDED FEDERAL MUCKRAKING.

Working and living conditions in southern cotton milling sections are clean as a hound's tooth by the side of those around Lawrence, Mass., and other New England milling districts, if testimony before the congressional committee on rules is to be accepted. Yet the federal departmental muckraker, in the form of bulletins, and the professional magazine "uplifter," in the form of articles, have led the world to believe that the southern mill owners had a monopoly of medieval barbarity, when it came to dealing with the children in their employ. It is to be hoped that this curiously one-sided federal activity will be given a national, rather than an unjust sectional slant, by the revelations of the probe now under way.

As with the government's strange persistence in libeling the south with regard to "peonage" while ignoring palpable abuses elsewhere, so it has been with its attitude toward southern mill settlements. In both instances, the process of distorting and warping and magnifying has been helped on by magazine sensationalists and Sunday newspaper penny-a-liners. What harm has accrued to the south by these grotesque advertisements of non-existent abuses it is difficult to estimate.

The congressional probe of conditions in New England has sunk but a little way, and what do we see revealed? Children near the infantile age underpaid and overworked, deprived of educational advantages, required to pay, it is claimed, even for drinking water. Hunger and nakedness a common spectacle. Young lives that might be developed into usefulness and beauty, stunted, sapped, burlesqued of all human meaning by arbitrary and despotic regulations of labor and living environment.

In what sort of plight do these disclosures leave the one-sided and unwarranted attacks upon conditions in the southern textile field? As a matter of record, it is to be doubted if the child-worker—where the child does work—is in any section of the country better watched, more carefully tended as to food and hours and clothes, than in the mill settlements of the southern states. Mill owners vie with each other in providing educational opportunities for children, compete in supplying, at low rent, sanitary and attractive homes for operatives generally. What is called welfare work is probably more genuinely advanced and uniformly practiced in the south than in any other portion of the country. There are, of course, abuses; there always will be in this as in every other industry, so long as humanity falls short of perfection and our standards are of the fluctuating variety. But beside the sordid and squalid picture of the New England mills conveyed in the dispatches, the surroundings and lot of the average southern mill operative, child or adult, is Utopian.

WHEN A MILLION MINERS STRIKE.

Coal comes near being the bottom and indispensable layer of the pyramid upon which the activities of twentieth-century civilization are founded. Whatever its outcome, the strike of approximately a million miners in Great Britain will present to the world a mammoth object lesson, driving home this fact and illustrating the vital interdependence of all the phases of commerce and industry of our day.

Shut off the supply of fuel and you paralyze transportation. Paralyze transportation and you clog, at once, every channel along which flows the life-blood of modern systematized existence. Factories go dead. Gigantic naval fleets float impotent. Food and clothing needed for distant and hungry and naked millions pile up useless and deteriorating. Markets cease to be markets, because they cannot be supplied. The whole twentieth-century program of action comes to an abrupt pause and cannot resume its pace until it is again energized by the resumption of the idle mines. The average citizen may ask himself what concern he has in a quarrel between miner and mine-owner, but the effect is continuously and disastrously visited upon him, whether he will or no, both in his home and his business.

These facts inspired the British government to desperate efforts to avert the strike of the army of miners. The principal contention on their part is for a minimum wage, with the mine-owners seemingly reluctant to grant concessions, and both sides determined upon a siege, if that were necessary, to determine supremacy. It will be remembered that the liberal party, now in complete control of the government, was confronted only a relatively short time ago by a situation almost analogous to the prevailing one. Railroad employees throughout the empire threatened to strike; for a time they did strike in places and British commerce paid heavy toil. The rising tide of public exasperation finally worked on both sides so effectually that compromises were reached and the men returned to work.

How soon and how completely an understanding can be effected in the present instance is a matter for conjecture. Each recurrence, however, of disagreements in those industries basically affecting civilization crystallizes public sentiment more resolutely in its demand for compulsory arbitration. Both parties to such disputes have their rights which must be respected. In the meantime the great third party, the public, suffering in the role of innocent bystander, has its rights which the disputants may not justly or with safety ignore. In this connection the proposal for an industrial commission in this country, to be charged with investigating all features of those relations between capital and labor that may result in antagonism, is a decidedly constructive one. It has the approval of men of both parties, of the president and of many of the controlling elements of labor and capital.

"Just From Georgia"

The Campaign Angel.

I.

With so much fire flyin' where the brass band music rings,
The Campaign Angel's doin' well if he can keep his wings.
They'll swinge him and singe him, and bring him to the scratch;

II.

There's danger that the fire they're flingin' round the land
Will burn the very campaign stumps on which the gasmen stand;
It's blazin', and raisin' such Cain the country round
The tallest timber trembles at the the fire's roarin' sound.

III.

But they're careful of that angel—they keep him groomed and fine;
They give him urns of incense, and tell him when to dine;
He winks his off-eye at them, and all serene he stands,
And keeps 'em all a-dancin' to the halleluia bands!

* * * * *

A Conservative Patriot.

Since I can't afford the expense of a campaign band; since the high prices of the meat trust have made cattle too valuable to be barbecued for campaign dinners; since a deal with the campaign button trust would swamp me, I have decided to sit quietly in a calm corner and see if the eternal bully-ragging, highwayman hold-up office will take a sensible notion to seek out a patriot who is willing to sacrifice his time and peace of mind in the service of his country!

The North Wind's Way.

Sweetheart-violet lyin' low.
Mockin'bird won't strike a note:
(Where's his winter overcoat?)
If he tried to sing today
March would blow the song away.

II.

Garden that the sweet Spring knows
Doesn't greet her with a rose;
Mister Rabbit says—says he:
"Hot June brier patch for me!"
Mister Bluebird—far from wise,
Let March blow him to the skies!

II.

North Wind, prophesyin' snow,
It is Winter's time to go;
Weary world in sorrow seeks
Spring, with glad, rose-reddened cheeks.
Mister Bluebird, come this way,—
Ask Miss Spring to spend the day!

* * * * *

Mistaken, but Happy.

The campaign optimist thinks every band playing at a railway station voices a call to office, but the minute he mounts a dry goods box and says: "Fellow-citizens, I thank you," a voice cries: "We're serenading the other fellow!" But that doesn't rattle him: He merely pities them for showing such poor judgment, and listens for another call.

"Been traveling in the lowgrounds,
But there she'll never stop:
She's got the wings to take her
To the highest mountain top!"

HOUSE ORDERS PROBE OF SHIPPING TRUST

Washington, March 5.—The house today passed a resolution to investigate the alleged shipping bill.

The resolution reported by the rules committee was introduced by Representative Hardy, of Texas. It directs the committee to make a thorough investigation of the practices of the steamship lines, domestic and foreign, engaged in the oversea or coastwise trade and to investigate whether such ship owners have formed any pools, conferences or other agreements among themselves or with any railroads to fix rates or give rebates or to pool and divide their earnings.

The committee is also instructed to ascertain the ownership of steamship lines, and to discover, if possible, if they are owned by railroads or by persons who own controlling interests in railroads.

DR. BURROWS PREACHES HIS 5,000TH SERMON

Americus, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) Forty-six years a minister of the Baptist church and one of the most widely-known clergymen in the south, Dr. Lansing Burrows, pastor of the Americus First Baptist church, has just delivered his five thousandth regularly prepared sermon. This record does not include the thousands of prayer meeting addrsses delivered before educational, church and Masonic assemblies, but sermons strictly, very few of them having ever been repeated.

Dr. Burrows served through the confederate service, and in the ordnance department assisted in conveying ammunition to the confederate ironclad Merrimac in the fight with the Monitor. For twenty-five years he has been secretary of the Southern Baptist convention, and has filled pulpits in five states. He was for seventeen years continuously pastor of the First Baptist church of Augusta.

JUDGE SPEER TESTIFIES ABOUT THOSE SLIPPERS

Savannah, Ga., March 5.—Judge Emory Speer of the United States court was a witness before the grand jury in his court today. He gave testimony in the case of Harris Williams, a colored boy charged with rifling the postoffice box of the DeSoto hotel, where the judge is stopping, and stealing a pair of bedroom slippers belonging to his honor.

FEDERAL SOIL SURVEY IS MADE IN DOUGHERTY

Albany, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—A work is in progress in Dougherty county, which is of fundamental importance to the agricultural interests of the county and the future development of its soil resources. This work is the making of a soil survey of the county by the United States department of agriculture.

This survey has now been going on for a number of weeks and the work is well under way. It is in charge of M. Earl Carr, who has been engaged in this line of work fo rthe department for a number of years. It is calculated that the field work will be completed sometime in May, after which about a year's time is required for the preparation of the report, maps, and publications.

In the prosecution of this work an accurate base map of the county is made on which are shown not only the location and extent of the different soils, but also the streams, railroads, public roads and many of the plantation roads. This map will be lithographed and published with the report.

The soils are differentiated according to origin, color, and topographic position, into different soil series, and according to texture and structure, into different types. All of these are shown on the map made in the field as the work progresses. Samples of both the surface soil and subsoil of all the different types will be taken and forwarded to the bureau of soils at Washington, and to the State College of Agriculture at Athens. The laboratories of these two institutions will make various investigations of these samples, the results of which will be incorporated in the report for the county.

The report of this soil survey will contain complete descriptions of all the different soils found in the county, together with a discussion of the agriculture suited to each. There will be suggestions as to the fertilizer practices for these different soils, and it will be pointed out how much of the expense for commercial fertilizers may be saved by growing green manure crops.

It seems to be certain that the Mexican cotton boll weevil will invade the county within the next few years. In the connection suggestions will be made as to the different crops which are adapted to the different soils. These suggestions will enable the planters to practice a more diversified cropping system, instead of the one crop—cotton—system now in vogue. This should have the effect of minimizing the damaging results of the advent of the boll weevil. There will also be included in the report a chapter in which the climatic conditions of the region will be discussed.

TO TEACH RAILROADING BY MOVING PICTURES

Savannah, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) One of the newest educational methods yet tried out by a railroad is soon to be put into effect on the Central of Georgia Railway. This is the teaching of train operation by moving pictures.

As a feature of the educational system that is to be inaugurated on the Central, April 1, a moving picture course in train operation is to be offered the colored laborers and other of the more ignorant employees of the road.

It is believed that by the use of maving pictures the colored laborers can be successfully taught the fundamentals of railroading where textbooks would be unsuited to the task. D. C. Buell, chief of the educational bureau of the Harriman lines, who is now in Savannah, will collect the pictures that will be shown, and will map out the details of the course.

MRS. BATCHELOR'S FUNERAL TOOK PLACE TUESDAY

The funeral of Mrs. Van Astor Batchelor took place yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the residence of her father, Dr. J. G. Earnest, and was attended by several hundred of Atlanta's representative people who knew and loved her. The services were conducted by Dr. Walker, the new pastor of the Presbyterian church, and a personal friend of the family for many years.

Music impressively sweet was contributed by Mrs. Frank Pearson and Mrs. John Cooper, and many friends attended the concluding services at the grave where the floral offerings, numerous and beautiful, robbed the scene of some of its sadness, and expressed the sympathy of many. Flowers came from many parts of Georgia and from Tennessee, the old home of the Earnest family.

A message to the bereaved family coming as appreciation of Mrs. Batchelor's charity, was that from the Sheltering Arms Society, of which she was a member, stating that a bed would be endowed in her memory at the Barclay mission, where she has rendered service since her childhood, while the Barclay mission board announces that a room in their building will be named as a memorial to Mrs. Batchelor.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. Van Astor Batchelor; by her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Earnest, and by one brother, N. G. Earnest, and three sisters, Mrs. C. S. Northen, Mrs. Josephine Earnest Purse, and Mrs. John Hill.

YOU MAY HAVE NO FURNITURE, BUT BE SURE TO USE SCREENS

---State Board of Health

"Your home may possess every luxury and comfort that imagination has conceived to add to the pleasure of living; but if it is without screens, it is not only incomplete, but lacking in the most essential element of a living abode. You may be without a chair to sit upon; without a table from which to eat your food, but have screens."

In terms thus strong—and it would make the meven stronger—does the Georgia state board of health seek to stress the importance of screens as the most effective means of conserving the individual, hence the public, health.

The screen is the family's quarantine against many diseases, and it is the only safe and sure prevention. Flies and mosquitoes are the bearers of many dangerous and often fatal maladies; there is but one safeguard against their possible infection—keep them out.

A single housefly may be the bearer of some 6,000,000 disease germs, a few of which, under favorable circumstances, may produce typhoid fever, dysentery, tuberculosis or some other malady just as dangerous.

Equally dangerous with the housefly, under proper conditions, is the mosquito, making it just as important that he be excluded from inhabited premises. Mosquitoes are the absolutely demonstrated agencies of distributing malaria, yellow fever, filariasis and like diseases; in fact, it has been proven with mathematical exactness that they are the only means by which these maladies are communicated.

Communicated by Mosquitoes.

The discovery that filariasis, producing often elephantiasis and other deformities, was communicated only through the mosquito, preceded discovery of the same principle with regard to malaria and yellow fever. It is malaria, of course, that the people of Georgia have most to guard against.

Malaria is communicated solely by the bite of one particular species of mosquito—the Anopheles, it is called—and in no other way. This has been demonstrated by medical science beyond all shadow of doubt. It is now just as absolutely accepted among scientists as that two and two make four.

"But mosquitoes bite me when I am out of doors in the daytime, so what have I to gain by screening my house against them?" someone will ask.

It is a well observed peculiarity of the Anopheles mosquito, the transmitter of malaria, that his activities are confined to the hours of darkness; he rests during the day and gets in his work at night. In his position of rest the body of the malarial mosquito is almost straight and sticks out from the surface on which it sits, while the common mosquito's body makes an angle and both bill and tail point toward the surface to which it is attached.

Screening the house, then, keeps out the malarial mosquito and there is practically nothing to be feared from his activities by day.

Screening Season Is Here.

This is the screening season—the time to prepare for the spring and summer campaign against those diseases which flourish under rising temperatures. Screen the house now, the state board of health advises and urges, and use screens of a mesh fine enough to keep out mosquitoes—preferably eighteen wires to the inch. The cost is small as compared with the immunity from dangerous and often fatal disease.

Screen the manure pile; in it 95 per cent of all the flies are born or hatched; thence they make their way, germladen, to the kitchen and the dining room. Keep the stables, the chicken yards, the pig pens, clean. Destroy the breeding places of flies and then screen them out of the house. Screen the closets, make it impossible for flies to get into or out of them; it is from these that are conveyed some of the worst forms of disease.

Examination should be made of the premises to see that there are no pools of stagnant water; the rain water that fills an old tin can is sufficient to breed mosquitoes. Drain or dry off all stagnant pools, or, next best, cover their surfaces with kerosene oil. Screen the rain barrel or pour kerosene upon it once a week. A little lamp oil is inexpensive; malarial fever may cost hundreds or even cause death.

Many cities have recognized the urgent necessity in their ordinances requiring the screening of all shops and stores where meats, groceries or other food products are kept for sale. This is done as a precaution against contamination from flies.

Screening the home serves the double purpose of excluding the fly and the mosquito.

It is the most important, the most essential sanitary precaution, the most effective safeguard against the classes of disease indicated known today, asserts the board of health.

Screen your home now is the board's earnest advice, and screen it effectively.

THIRSTY CITIZEN PAYS $15 FOR DRINK OF COLORED WATER

A new phase of the colored water "blind tiger" trick was presented in the city court Monday morning when Dorsey Sellers, a negro, was tried for larceny from the person. The victim, a white man, paid just $15.35 for a half-pint of what he thought was corn whiskey, but which turned out to be slightly tinged water.

Dorsey was peddling his colored water when John H. Jones approached him.

"Sixty-six?" he mysteriously inquired.

"Sure."

"Turn 'raoun' an Ah'll slip it in yo' pocket," was the command.

Jones turned around and felt the bottle gently pushed into his hip pocket. He proceeded down Decatur street, secure in the knowledge that with him he bore a panacea for various ills, while didn't he have a pocketbook containing $15? Sure.

Jones finally decided he wanted to take a drink. Carefully and gloatingly he pulled the bottle from his pocket, there was a soft pop, then a gurgle. The gurgle ended suddenly.

He took one smell and with a look in his eye which boded no good for Dorsey retraced his steps up Decatur street. The bottle was reclining in an alley. Jones couldn't find Dorsey. A second "blind tiger" accosted him. He was more cautious.

"Let me smell it," he demanded. He smelled.

"I'll have my drink after all," he decided.

With his new bottle in one hand he reached to his hip pocket for the pocketbook and the $15. It was gone! Dorsey hadn't been satisfied with selling the fake liquor. When he put the bottle of water into the hip pocket the pocketbook came out. That's what Dorsey and Jones say and they were both in the city court Monday morning. Dorsey received a 12-months sentence.

PRICE OF PINT OF BOOZE PUZZLES ATLANTA LAWYERS

If a man buys a half-pint of whisky from another and the two are caught in the transaction, who owns the fifty cents which was paid for the liquor? That is the question Judge Andy Calhoun answered in the city court Monday, though not until a number of lawyers had given expert opinions. The question of the ownership of the whisky was not considered.

The two men were caught by a city detective and he took charge of both the half-pint and the half-dollar. The "blind tiger" pleaded guilty and was sentenced to twelve months.

"Who must I give this money to?" queried the detective.

"The white man didn't get the whisky. It belongs to him," declared another.

"Let's confiscate the money and the liquor, too," proposed a bailiff.

"Give the prisoner the fifty cents," directed the judge. "It's been proved that he sold the liquor. It's his money." The coin was handed to the negro.

The white man who did the buying was leaving.

GOVERNMENT SOON RESTS IN TRIAL OF PACKERS

Chicago, March 5.—The government expects to rest in the trial of the ten meat packers charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law either tomorrow or Thursday.

The trial, which began December 6, was materially shortened today when both sides agreed to have read to the jury stipulated corporate statements describing the organization and financial condition of the four companies controlled by the defendants, instead of calling a score of witnesses to prove the facts.

The first of these statements was that of Armour & Co., which was read to the jury in the afternoon by Government Counsel Butler. It showed that the company was incorporated in 1900 with a capital stock of $20,000,000 and has a surplus of $70,000,000.

When the government rests its case the defense will make a formal motion asking Judge Carpenter to instruct the jury to return a verdict of not guilty in the case of each defendant on the ground that the government's proof is insufficient. The argument on this motion will occupy several days.

Schedule on Gulf Line.

Thomasville, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) A through schedule on the Gulf Line railroad from Camilla to Hawkinsville will prove a great convenience to Thomasville people as heretofore the trip from here to Hawkinsville has been a very inconvenient and roundabout one. The Gulf Line schedule will connect with that of the Atlantic Coast Line between Thomasville and Albany and will doubtless be well patronized by the traveling public.

Pavo Wants Another Bank.

Thomasville, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) Pavo, in this county, wants another bank and a charter for the Planters' bank has been applied for. That town already has one flourishing bank, but like several other of the Thomas county towns it is growing so rapidly and is in such a prosperous condition that it feels the need of another banking institution and will get it.

LARGE WAREHOUSE BURNS AT MOULTRIE

Moultrie, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—The most disastrous fire that this city has experienced in ten years occurred last night some time after midnight when the large wholesale warehouse of the Holmes Hartsfield Company was discovered burning fiercely. The building was 150 feet frontage on First street east, with a similar depth, and was filled with hay, grain and provisions.

The fire had gained great headway before the alarm was turned in. The firemen responded promptly and did valuable work in confining the flames to this one building. A total loss of both building and contents was suffered by the company, estimated at close to $40,000, with insurance of $24,000 on building and stock. The building will be replaced at once and the company will resume business as soon as quarters can be secured.

Owing to a rather high wind blowing at the time of the fire, fears were entertained that residences in the adjoining block would be consumed, as flawing brands were being carried by the wind and falling on the roofs. Owners of homes climbed upon their houses and with brooms and buckets of water kept the sparks from igniting the buildings.

Purim Ball at Thomasville.

Thomasville, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) The first Purim ball ever given in Thomasville is in progress tonight at the Guards' Armory and is largely attended. This ball is given by the Zion's society of the Jewish church and a portion of the proceeds will be devoted to the work of the society and a part of it will be divided between the city hospital and the Vashti home. By special invitation Mayor MacIntyre made a short address at the opening of the ball. Many hundreds of tickets were sold and a number attended, both of those dancing and those who went as spectators.

HOW LEWIS PLAYED FINANCIAL GAME

Government Attorney Outlines to Jury Alleged Methods of Publisher.

St. Louis, March 5.—The first day of testimony taking in the case of the government against E. G. Lewis, charged with fraudulent use of the mails, in connection with his various enterprises, was taken up with the identification of documents which will play an important part in the hearing before Judge Amidon, in the United States district court here.

District Attorney Houts then described the organization of the four corporations, beginning with the formation of the University Heights Development and Investment Company, a holding company. This, he said, was organized in 1901, with assets of $500,000.

"In 1903," he continued, "Lewis organized the Lewis Publishing Company, which figures most prominently in his subsequent operations. Its authorized capital was $1,200,000.

"To pay this, Lewis transferred to it the subscription lists and good will of The Winner Magazine, The Mail-order Publishing Company, The Woman's Farm Journal and the printing presses of the Richards Printing Company.

"The only tangible assets of these various concerns were the printing presses and these he put in at $90,000. He was later compelled to reduce to $38,000, so that the Lewis Publishing Company's only tangible assets were $38,000.

"The Lewis Publishing Company published various periodicals at a price of from 10 cents to $1 a year, the main purpose being to secure advertising and the main advantage being Lewis' personal schemes to obtain money from persons living outside of St. Louis. It was his policy to induce persons outside of St. Louis to invest small sums of from $50 to $250."

SMOKE ORDINANCE MAY BE AMENDED

Expert Flagg Makes His Report to Chamber.

Recommends That Locomotives be Allowed to Emit Smoke so Many Seconds Instead of so Many Minutes Each Hour.

Atlanta's smoke ordinance may receive several amendments before it goes into effect July 1, as a result of a report just submitted to the chamber of commerce by S. G. Flagg, of Pittsburg, a government engineer and smoke expert.

At a meeting of a joint committee, composed of a number of the most prominent business men in the city, the smoke abatement committee of the chamber yesterday afternoon received the report of Mr. Flagg, who has studied conditions here, and immediately afterwards President Wilmer L. Moore, chairman of the joint committee, appointed a special committee to take the report and make therefrom recommendations as to what amendments should be made to the present city smoke ordinance in the light of this report.

Committee Meets Friday.

This committee will meet Friday afternoon at 3:30 and will report to the directors at their next meeting.

After a thorough review of local conditions regarding the smoke evil here, Mr. Flagg gives his opinion as to what changes are needed in the present city ordinance, which becomes effective in July, in order to make it the best at this time.

To begin with, Mr. Flagg recommends that a "smoke commission," consisting of from five to ten business men of the city, should be created to assist the smoke commissioner, provided for in the ordinance in his work.

He also points out that the smoke inspector must, to properly do the work expected of him, be an engineer of no mean ability, and to secure such a man the $1,200 appropriated by council is inadequate, in Mr. Flagg's opinion.

Further, it is recommended that the ordinance be so changed as to allow locomotive to emit dense smoke so many seconds consecutively, instead of twelve minutes in the hour, as provided. He points out that it would be difficult for an inspector to keep watch on a locomotive as much as an hour at one time. The inspector gives it as his opinion that seventy seconds would be a reasonable time to allow locomotives to emit dense smoke without cessation.

Define Dense Smoke.

The city ordinance should also define what shall be deemed "dense smoke" in the opinion of the expert. He shows the standard used in the majority of cities where smoke ordinances are in force and suggests that this would most probably be found suitable here.

As to existing conditions, Mr. Flagg sets out that they are better here than in many places, because of the superiority of the coal used here. He also gives it as his opinion that with the co-operation of the chamber of commerce, the city council and the business men of the city, conditions may be bettered from the start, and the nuisance largely abated later on with the continuation of the work. He shows that this work is of two kinds, corrective and preventive. The first includes the work of requiring the operators of all furnaces to comply with the law, while the second consists in seeing to it that new furnaces being built are erected with a view to their smoke consuming qualities.

In the handling of switch engines, he believes great improvement is possible, as the majority of the smoke emitted from these, in his opinion, is due to the improper handling by the firemen.

CAPT. WHITE DIES: VETERAN OFFICER

Retired From Police Force After Serving Nearly Thirty Years.

Captain M. M. White, aged 71 years, died at the residence, 36 East Thirteenth street, at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The funeral will take place from Patterson's undertaking parlors at 2 o'clock Thursday, Rev. Arthur Potter, of Marietta, officiating. Pallbearers will be Chief of Police Beavers, ex-Chief Jennings, Sergeant Whatley and Officers Hollis, Carlisle and Spratling.

Captain White came on the Atlanta police force nearly thirty-one years ago, on June 4, 1881, and during the time of his service was considered one of the most efficient officers on the force. He retired about two years ago, and since that time had been in bad health. For four or five years before his retirement he was stationed at Piedmont park. He is survived by two brothers, William and George White, and two sisters, Mrs. Maggie DeLoach and Mrs. Lee Hudgins, and his widow.

Milady's Toilet Table

By Mme. D'MILLE.

There are simple home treatments that keep the hair and complexion young looking. Dry shampooing cleans the scalp and hair, and makes the hair grow. Just put a cupful of cornmeal in a fruit jar and mix with it an original package of theox; sprinkle a little on the head and brush out. It brushes out easily and leaves the hair clean, bright, wavy and rich in color.

To keep the face youthful and fair, make a simple lotion by dissolving an original package of mayatone in a half pint of witch hazel and rub over the face, neck and arms every morning. Your complexion will soon be smooth, clear, satin-like and free from blemishes.

Wild hairs or fuzzy growths can be made to vanish quickly by applying delatone paste. Mix enough powdered delatone and water to cover the hairy surface; apply and after two or three minutes rub off, wash the skin, and the hairs will be gone.

Chaps, cold sores, pimples, eczema and rough skin are quickly healed if you rub Mother's Salve into the affected surfaces before retiring. It quickly heals sores, burns, scalds, etc. It is antiseptic as well as healing and lessens danger of blood poisoning.

BUSTARD LASHES NEAR PREACHERS

"Religious Substitutes Often Handed Out," Says Rockefeller's Pastor.

> The churches offer substitutes today for the gospel—social service, musicales, lectures and stereopticon slides. A sermonette is but a step from a sermon-nit.
> I don't see how God could use some of the sermons preached today for the saving of men without working a miracle.
> The efforts of some preachers to prtach the gospel are like dumb men trying to give a college yell.
> Religious truths as expounded by many modern ministers remind me of an old blacksmith shop sign: "All sorts of twistings and turnings done here."
> The people of our country want light reading and light preaching these days. Some of them, if they thought twice a day, would be seasick for a week.
> There is too much talk about education. Education may make a gentleman, but it will never make a Christian.
> All the good in our civilization today has come from all that was Christian in our civilization yesterday.
> The cities will never be saved by professional evangelists. If they are ever evangelized, the work must be done by evangelistic preachers, those who bring the evangel, the glad tidings of Jesus.

Stressing the need of bringing the gospel message to men today, instead of serving them the various brands of religious substitutes as handed out by many ministers, Dr. W. W. Bustard, pastor of the Euclid Avenue Baptist church, of Cleveland, Ohio, the church which Rockefeller attends, lashed the near-preachers and near-sermons delivered by them before a large audience at the Baptist Tabernacle last night. This was the first address by Dr. Bustard on this, his first attendance on the Baptist Bible conference.

"Religion should be brought into contact with life.

"The minister first must know man as he is, his social, religious and civic tendencies. Secondly, he must know the failures and sins of men and women—the religious and moral maladies that beset them. Third, he must know and possess a supply of means of relief—must have something to bring to men that will save them."

Men Lax in Christian Duties.

He spoke further of the great, insistent necessity at the present time, when men are laxer than ever before in their regard of Christian duties, that ministers shall understand the heart of men, shall know human nature and how to change his heart from a state of spiritual indifference to the love and knowledge of God.

The attendance at all hours Tuesday was good. It is estimated that fully 2,000 people were in the building, attending various meetings, throughout the fore and afternoon.

A petition signed by men from all over the section of territory represented in Atlanta this week, asking that Dr. Len G. Broughton, who leaves for London about the 1st of April, appear as a speaker some time during the conference, reached Dr. Broughton Tuesday. This he announced he would do on Thursday.

At the afternoon session Dr. Robert Stuart MacArthur continued his talks on Russia, taking as his subject the Russo-Greek church. In the course of the address he pointed out many of the vital differences between this church and the Roman Catholic church. In doing so he called attention to the popular impression that the czar is head of the Greek church.

Czar Not Church Head.

"It is true the head of the church is not a priest, a fact strange enough in itself, but he is not the czar. The president of the holy synod, who is always a layman, is the highest officer of the church. It is a political office and the occupant receives the title of 'oberprocurator.'"

The talks of Mrs. A. A. Lamareaux on the growth and education of the child's mind, with especial reference to his religious training, were continued Tuesday afternoon.

The program for today follows: 9 a. m. devotional hour, in charge of Dr. Emmet Stevens; 10 a. m. Dr. Camden Cobern, "New Lights on the New Testament;" 11 a. m. address by Dr. Charles Inwood, of London; 3 p. m. Dr. MacArthur on Russia; 4 p. m. Mrs. Lamareaux; 8 p. m. sermon by Dr. W. W. Bustard.

MADE A TARGET OF HITCHCOCK

Washington, March 5.—The postoffice department was a target for prominent speakers at the twelfth annual convention of the National Civic Federation, which began here today.

Attacks on the executive order which prohibits the appeal of government employees to congress or congressmen in questions affecting wages and working conditions, were made by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, and Representative Lloyd, of Missouri, a member of the house committee on postoffices and post roads.

Second Assistant Postmaster General Joseph Stewart, who had preceded those speakers, returned to the platform and vigorously defended the department and the postmaster general. A lively colloquy which ensued between Mr. Stewart, Mr. Gompers and Mr. Lloyd over the interpretation of the order was terminated abruptly by the chairman ruling the proceeding out of order.

"No other department of the government has dreamed of carrying out to the letter this order," declared Mr. Gompers. "The postoffice department has not only dreamed of it, but has actually had a nightmare over it."

Representative Lloyd declared the policy of appealing to congress through superior officers to be ineffective.

Cardinal Gibbons, who presided at the morning session, spoke on the relation of capital to labor, their interdependence on each other and the growing power of union labor in its demands for betterment of working conditions and higher wages.

Seth Low, president of the federation, and Judge Knapp, of the United States commerce court, discussed labor conditions and the gradual tendency of both parties to arbitration of disputes. Mr. Low indorsed the American Federation of Labor, and praised President Gompers.

[illegible] the recent strike of the street cleaners of New York, prepared by Commissioner Edwards, was read.

William S. Fitzgerald, vice president of the Amalgamated Street Railway Union; H. N. Kellogg, of the American Newspaper Publishers' Association; G. G. Norman, president of the New York Builders' Association, and Allen Burns, of Pittsburg.

SHORTER CROPS, HIGHER PRICES

This Prospect Faces Georgia Farmers This Year.

"Rain Has Been Falling Continually and Crops Will Be From Three to Four Weeks Late," Says Assistant Agricultural Commissioner.

Shorter crops and higher prices!

Preparations for planting have been delayed, weather conditions are decidedly adverse; the fertilizer manufactories have not yet sent out the spring supply to distributers; in many places ground has not even been broken in spite of the fact that customarily corn is planted between March 1 and 15, and throughout the state little preparation of land was made last fall.

Crops Planted Month Later.

As a result the planting of crops will be at least one month later than usual this year and in many cases six weeks later, and the planting will be done in land which has not been properly prepared. This means that the yield per acre will not be as great as is ordinarily the case, thereby sending the price of farm products upward. Fruit alone, among all the many products of Georgia plantations, will probably be abundant, for the long winter and unusual cold has all worked to protect buds from late frosts, while for the first time in two years this section is getting plenty of rain.

Robert F. Wright, assistant commissioner of agriculture, Tuesday explained why crops in 1912 will be short. "They will be from three to four weeks late," he said, "because in the first place, rain has fallen almost continually this spring and the farmers have had no opportunity to get into the fields, and when crops are late they are usually short.

"The weather can be blamed for it all. Last fall climatic conditions were such that land could not be cultivated for fall planting or turned preparatory to spring plowing. Fall oats could not be sown, nor could other winter crops be planted. The land remained as it was when harvesting was done. Since the first of January there has been an unusual amount of rain, and no land has been prepared for spring planting.

Not Fault of Farmers.

"Farmers begin to prepare the land for both corn and cotton some time in February, yet throughout the state no great amount of work has been done, and except in one or two places in south Georgia no preparations at all have been made. It is not the fault of the farmers, however.

"Fertilizer companies have not yet sent the spring fertilizer supply to distributors and merchants. The merchants have not made their spring orders because the farmers have not created a demand. This in itself will cause additional delay later, for roads will be in such condition for some time to come that little hauling can be done, and fertilizer is decidedly bulky. Spring orders will come in such a rush to the fertilizer manufacturies that they will be for a time unable to cope with the trade, and even if they are prepared to fill all orders the railroads will not be able to furnish sufficient cars. Everything this spring is aiding in the delay."

Shipments Will Be Late.

The fertilizer companies in Atlanta have not begun to make spring shipments even now, when ordinarily the rush is in full swing. "Shipments this year will be at least a month later than usual," said Manager Stewart, of the Armour Fertilizer Works. Agents of northern companies say that already their employers are making inquiry as to the unusual delay.

Georgia has not had anywhere near the customary rainfall for several years, and this is probably the cause of the unusual weather conditions which have prevailed throughout the winter. In 1911 the deficiency in rainfall was 12½ inches, and almost as much in 1910. Since January 1, 1912, approximately 11 inches of rain has fallen, an excess of more than 1 inch, a condition which Atlanta has not had for some time.

From all over the state recently have come reports telling how streams are running full and how standing bodies of water are at the high level for the first time in 20 months, and this has been the case since February 1. It is probable that 1912 will be a rainy year, and if such is the case crops will be still further decreased.

Trials of Parsons Postponed.

New York, March 5.—The trial of John E. Parsons, director and former legal adviser of the American Sugar Refining Company; Washington B. Thomas, former president, and other officials of the company, to have come up in the United States district court here today, was adjourned until Thursday. The defendants are accused of conspiracy to restrain trade. Mr. Parsons is 82 years old.

FEUDIST KILLED ON MAIN STREET

W. B. Fuzzell Slain by J. F. Wingate, His Former Tenant, at Abbeville.

Abbeville, Ga., March 5.—(Special.) As the result of a feud of four months' standing, W. B. Fuzzell was shot and instantly killed by J. F. Wingate on the main business street of this plac at 9 o'clock this morning. Wingate was a tenant of Fuzzell's last year and they had some trouble about a settlement.

It is said that when Fuzzell and Wingate met last night the trouble was renewed and resulted in Wingate shooting at Fuzzell several times with a pistol, without effect. This morning Fuzzell heard that Wingate was in town, and, securing a Winchester rifle, went to look for him, and, seeing him, fired at him, the shot barely missing. Immediately Wingate secured a shotgun from a nearby store and fired at Fuzzell with deadly aim, killing him instantly.

Wingate surrendered to the sheriff and is now in jail here. Fuzzell leaves a wife and several grown children.

THEATERS

Henrietta Crosman.

(At the Atlanta.)

Every woman in Atlanta should take advantage of the opportunities offered this afternoon and tonight to see Henrietta Crosman in what the critics assert is the best comedy of the year at the Atlanta theater. This comedy bears the title of "The Real Thing," and is assuredly the brightest, snappiest and most instructive comedy of the season. It is a woman's play, though of intense interest to men, as well. The company playing it is of the highest type and makes it worth seeing from the standpoint of artistic acting. The matinee will be given at 2:30 this afternoon and the last performance of the engagement tonight.

Keith Vaudeville.

(At the Forsyth.)

The Forsyth is offering a pleasing bill this week. It is a case, too, of the headliners making good, for "Cheyenne Days" is one of the most interesting and most realistic offerings in things theatrical. Jim Cook and Jack Lorenze continue to stand at the head of the class in comedy. They do the stillest sort of things, but all of the fun of it, and every audience that has spent a little more than a quarter of an hour with the fun-makers, has been won to the support of the declaration that vaudeville does not hold two better entertainers. Lon Anger, is a monologue founded on military has won, too. He is a laugh-producer and a good one. There is lots more to the offering of Hermine Shone and Company than the comedy strength of the act.

(At the Lyric.)

At the Lyric this week, "The Girl in the Taxi" is pleasing the patrons of that house. There can be no question that there are more laughs to the square inch in this piece than there are in several other farce comedies put together. The fun is of the fast and furious kind, the complications fairly tumble over each other, the climaxes are postponed, heightened and the laughs come like discharges from gatling guns. The close of the first act finds the audience almost exhausted from laughing and gasping for breath. The company is an unusual one in many respects, and every member of it deserves special mention.

Seat Sale for John Drew.

(At the Atlanta.)

The advance sale of seats for John Drew's appearance in "A Single Man," by Hubert Henry Davies, the English playwright, opens today at the box office of the Atlanta this morning. The attraction will be one of the notable events of the local theatrical season. Mr. Drew's popularity is too evident to need comment, and in "A Single Man" he has not only a tremendously successful play, but one which offers him a leading role of varied opportunities. The engagement is for Friday and Saturday with Saturday matinee.

"The Flirting Princess."

(At the Grand.)

"o the victors belong the spoils," might be aptly applied to Harry Bulgar and his present season in a new edition of the terpsichorean musical comedy, "The Flirting Princess," which Mort H. Singer has sent out in a sumptuous manner. While this is the third season of this, the best of all the Hough, Adams and Howard successes, it is its first visit here, and notwithstanding the numerous demands and requests on the part of many eastern managers to send out another company, Mr. Singer will only present the number one and original big company, headed by Harry Bulger, which comes here Friday evening, for two nights and a matinee to the Grand.

(At the Grand.)

By far the most interesting production of recent years, "Everywoman," with which the public has become familiar through the magazine articles and New York dispatches, will be seen at the Grand for four nights and a matinee, commencing Monday, March 11, when Henry T. Savage will offer his modern morality play with a special cast. The production defies the ordinary classification of the theater. It is not opera, drama or comedy, while partaking of many of the essential features of all of them. It was suggested to the author, Walter Browne, by the ancient morality play, "Everywoman," which was performed throughout America a few years ago by a band of English players. There is, however, not the faintest similarity in treatment for "Everyman."

DARROW WAS ACCUSED BY BERT FRANKLIN

Los Angeles, March 5.—Clarence S. Darrow, the McNamaras' attorney, today was given possession of testimony given by Bert H. Franklin before the grand jury which indicted Darrow on charges of jury bribing. This consisted of one question and answer, according to Assistant District Attorney Ford, as follows:

"Was the money you paid Robert F. Bain furnished by Clarence S. Darrow?" was the question.

"Yes," was Franklin's answer. Franklin recently was fined $4,000 after pleading guilty to the charge of attempting to influence Bain, first juror sworn in the trial.

Joint Meeting Will Be Held This Afternoon.

Special Committee Appointed by Council Will Meet With the Officials of the Street Car Company to Consider Differences.

Acting under a resolution adopted by council, which was published in Tuesday's Constitution, there will be a joint meeting of the committees on electric lights, electric and other railways and tax this afternoon at 3 o'clock for the purpose of holding a conference with the officials of the Georgia Railway and Electric Company to take up certain propositions which the city has submitted.

As the joint committee is to report to council next Monday, a report will be framed some time this week.

The whole settlement is based upon the Hall resolution, which calls for an investigation before the state railroad commission in regard to street car fares. That fact will doubtless be kept in mind by the committee.

The propositions which have been made to the company embrace the following:

A reduction of street car fares so tickets can be bought eight for a quarter by working people and school children and six for a quarter by all other persons; reduction of the maximum light rate from 10 to 6 cents, and reduction of the monthly minimum from $2 to $1; reduction of the maximum power rate from 6 to 4 cents, and reduction of the monthly minimum from $1 to 50 cents per horsepower; agreement by the company to pave 18 feet where the tracks are double, in place of 11 feet; agreement by the company to be somewhat more liberal in extending street car lines and light and power wires; and agreement by the company never to interfere with the city's water supply.

The three above committees consist of the following members of council: Alderman Chambers, Alderman Candler, Alderman Ragsdale, Councilman Mason, Alderman McClelland, Councilman Hall, Alderman Johnson, Councilman Smith, Alderman Warren. The mayor and city attorney will also be present.

Under bright lights and in the midst of attractive decorations of flowers and bunting, with tuneful music marking the interval between the many excellent addresses, the members of the Atlanta Turnverein and their invited guests last ight celebrated the thirty-ninth anniversary.

An overture by Wedemeyer's band opened the evening, and was followed by an address of Professor Wedemeyer, for ten years president. MR. AND MRS. NORWOOD MITCHELL CELEBRATE THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Unheralded by any save an informal invitation for supper, Mr. and Mrs. Norwood Mitchell gathered a hundred of their friends together last evening in celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. Not until the guests arrived were they informed of the significance of the occasion, which was a brilliantly happy one.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell were assisted in entertaining by their young son, Mr. Otey Mitchell, who graduated last year from the University of Virginia, while the friends entertained were those who have been closely identified with Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell since they moved to Atlanta from Richmond, Va., and became prominent residents of this city. While Mr. Mitchell became a part of Atlanta's civic movement and those of state import, Mrs. Mitchell became a member of the women's organizations—the Colonial Dames, the Daughters of the Revolution and the Daughters of the Confederacy.

She is the daughter of the late Major Otey, of Lynchburg, Va., who was distinguished in the confederacy and for many years afterward served his state in congress. She is a niece of the noted statesman, John B. Floyd, who was governor of Virginia and secretary of war under Buchanan, while her grandfather on her father's side was governor of the state of Virginia.

During the several visits here of the late Senator Daniel he was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell, who invited their friends to meet him socially. The same compliment they paid to Thomas Nelson Page and Governor Montague on the occasion of their visits here and other distinguished Virginians. Colonel and Mrs. Roosevelt had expected to be present in Atlanta last evening to attend the anniversary gathering of the popular host and hostess, but pressing business brought a letter of regret on Saturday from Colonel Roosevelt.

An elegant hospitality was expressed and the house in decorative scheme suggested a picture of early spring in the profusion of vari-colored flowers against a background of green in smilax and palms.

Supper was served from the dining room, where the table centerpiece was a rustic basket of jonquils. The silver candlesticks had yellow shades, and all the appointments were a handsome combination of yellow and silver.

Punch was served in the den, which was fragrant with hyacinths and carnations, and in the library pink roses and carnations were the decoration.

Mrs. Mitchell wore an elegant toilet of white satin veiled with lace and embroidered in crystal and silver. Her corsage bouquet was of orange blossoms, which had been sent by friends in Florida, and orange blossoms were caught in her hair.

Hill, in a most impressive manner.

The bride wore a corsage bouquet of violets and lilies of the valley, her only ornament being a beautiful necklace with pearl pendants, the gift of the groom.

The parlor in which they were married was richly decorated with Enchantress carnations, palms and bamboo.

Especially beautiful and inviting, with the decoration of lovely flowers, was the dining room, where a delicious salad was served.

MRS. SCOTT'S SUFFERING OVER

Doctors Advised An Operation. How She Escaped Told By Herself.

Buckner, Mo.—"For more than a year I suffered agonies from female troubles and the doctors at last decided there was no help for me unless I went to the hospital for an operation. I was awfully against that operation, and as a last resort wrote to you for special advice and I told you just what I suffered with bearing down pains, backache, shooting pains in my left side, and at times I could not touch my foot to the floor without screaming. I was short of breath, had smothered spells, felt dull and draggy all the time. I could not do any work, and oh how I dreaded to have an operation.

"I received a letter full of kind advice, which I followed, and if I had only written her a year ago I would have been saved so much suffering, for today I am a well woman. I am now keeping house again and do every bit of my own work. Every one in this part of the country knows it was Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that has restored me to health, and everywhere I go I recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. LIZZIE SCOTT, Buckner, Mo.

"An Honest Miller Has a Golden Thumb"

So runs the old saying.

But there are, nonetheless, honest millers. The one who mills K K K Flour is in Class A of the upright.

Tell you why:

He puts quality ahead of everything else. He gives you, through the processes which he has perfected, all the wheat that you are paying for.

He doesn't sacrifice nourishment to looks in making his flour—this wonderful K K K you hear so much about. You get your full 67% of carbohydrates, your 13% of albuminoids, your full share of the potash, soda and other mineral matter that Nature meant for you.

And at the same time—thanks to the wonder of the miller's wits—you get a beautifully white and regular-running flour.

So much for Quality.

K K K Flour is a glad surprise for the house-wife. It bakes up in a way that makes the most blase palate joyfully alert. Bread, biscuit, pie-crust and cake of the uttermost deliciousness come from K K K.

How to "Shed" a Bad Complexion.

It's foolish to attempt to cover up or hide a sallow complexion, when you can so easily remove the sallowness, or the complexion itself. Rouge and the like on a brownish skin only emphasize the defect. The better way is to apply pure mercolized wax—the same as you would cold cream—putting it on at night, removing it in the morning with warm water, following with a dash of cold. The effect of a few applications is simply marvelous. The half-dead cuticle is absorbed by the wax—painlessly, gradually, in tiny, imperceptible particles—revealing the beautiful velvety-white new skin beneath.

No woman need have a sallow, blotchy, pimply or freckled complexion if she'll just go to the druggist's, get an ounce of good mercolized wax and use as suggested.—Woman's Realm.

Luncheon to Visitors.

Mrs. E. P. McBurney entertained ten guests at luncheon yesterday in compliment to Mrs. Frank Lanier of Americus, the guest of Mrs. Williams, and Mrs Grantland Rice of New York, the guest of Mrs. Robert Crumley. LaGrange, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Miss Ruth Brome, a popular and accomplished young lady of this city, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. A. Broome, of Main street, became the bride of Mr. Joseph E. Dunson, Jr., son of Hon. J. E. Dunson, president of the LaGrange Bankin gand Trust Company, at her home Tuesday afternoon. The ceremony was in charge of Rev. Dr. Pierce, presiding elder of the LaGrange district Methodist church; Mrs. Jesse Carter played the wedding music. Nearly two hundred people were present for the occasion and among them were many out-of-town relatives and friends of the young couple.

Mrs. J. Wideman Ligon, a sister of the bride, from Asheville, N. C., was matron of honor, while Miss Florence Dunson was bridesmaid. The groom was attended by Ron. J. E. Dunson, his father. The Broome home was decorated profusely with orange blossoms, smilax and jonquils. Following the ceremony a buffet lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Dunson left the city on a late train for a wedding trip to Florida and Cuban points. The groom is assistant cashier of the LaGrange Banking and Trust Company, while the bride is one of the younger members of the city's social set and is a member of a number of clubs. MILITIA TO PARTICIPATE IN MILITARY MANEUVERS

All of the national guard in the southeastern section will participate in the military maneuvers which the war department has arranged to have held at Chickamauga park in July. This includes the troops from North and South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee. This will take to Chickamauga at that time about 10,00 national guard troops. It will not include all the troops from these states, but each will send its pro rata, and the larger portion of them will get the benefit of the encampment. Practically all the Georgia troops will participate, it is thought, with the exception of the Second infantry regiment, which will have its tour of duty in Macon during the coming reunion, of veterans, and the coast artillery of Savannah, which has been excused from camp duty this year.

"CLEAN ATLANTA BEFORE SUMMER"

of the city has been more opportune and more needed. Our board has been doing all it could to keep the city healthy and clean. We try to enforce all the laws and regulations, but the people must help us. We cannot place an inspector in every back yard, and a person can have a filthy yard today and get it cleaned up before the inspector can reach him and after the damage to health is done. The board will take up the suggestion of The Constitution and do its best to get the city clean before summer."

Glad Crusade Is Started.

Dr. J. P. Kennedy, the health officer, said:

"I am truly glad that somebdy has started a crusade against filthy back yards. Man creates his own diseases. He makes filth, and filth makes either germs or flies. Flies carry disease. Stagnant water breeds mosquitoes and the insects carry malaria. One of the greatest things the city has done in years has been to issue bonds for water pipe and sewers, for they do away with surface closets. It is a mistaken idea that dumping grounds spread disease. It is the flies that breed on the dumps that spread malaria. I am sorry that the question of municipal ownership of an electric light and power plant has interfered with the garbage disposal plant through a proposed plan to build the two together. It is the health department's duty to dispose of the garbage first and let the other matter take care of itself. As health officer I shall do all in my power to see that the city is kept clean, and, as stated by The Constitution, the time for everybody to start, right now before the hot weather comes."

Much Water Pipe Laid.

General Manager Smith, of the waterworks department, said in reference to earth closets:

"I can state that my department has, since the bond money was voted, made 4,578 water connections, which means that many houses which had earth closest, and I understand that sewers have been laid on the same streets with the new water mains as rapidly as possible. The city formerly had some seven or eight thousand surface closets, and this number has been reduced by about 2,500, so I understand, and the number is being reduced just as fast as water pipe and sewers can be laid. The slogan of a 'cleaner Atlanta' meets with my hearty approval, and if laying water pipe can help the situation, The Constitution can count on my department doing all it possibly can."

Street Repairs Retarded.

In regard to the condition of streets, the chief of construction said:

"It is true, just as The Constitution states, that many streets are badly in need of repairs, but what can we do when the weather is either freezing or raining? For the past three months we could do very little repair work, especially on asphalt, for it cannot be repaired in freezing weather or in very wet weather. We have had a most unprecedented winter. My department will get to work on repairing streets just as soon as the weather will permit."

Chief Jentzen, of the sanitary department, could not be seen, as he was out of the city Tuesday attending court in an adjoining county. He will be heard from as soon as he returns.

Now that the public officials say they are prepared to do their part, the next move is up to the people to see that the city is made clean before summer.

Fooled It.

REFUSED TO DIVULGE SECRET

Mrs. Pruitt Attributes Her Suffering in Later Years to the Fact That She Kept Her Condition Secret When a Young Girl.

Hickory Grove, S. C.—"I was in bad health before I married," writes Mrs. Mary Pruitt, of this place, "but kept it a secret, as most young girls do. I am sure if I had taken Cardui, the woman's tonic, when I was young, I would not have gone through seven years of suffering.

Soon after I was married, the trouble became so severe, I was forced to seek relief. I tried every doctor I saw, and five different doctors in one town. They claimed they could cure me, but all failed, and we decided that I would never be well. I had such aching and drawing pains in my back, legs, sides and head, that I would cry and scream, and tell my husband that I was going to die.

Finally, one day, he read in the Ladies' Birthday Almanac about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and got a bottle for me. After taking the first dose, I felt better, and after using one bottle I never did have any more pain.

It relieved me at once.

I can never praise Cardui enough."

Cardui has been found to relieve women's pains and strengthen women's weakness.

It has stood the test of time. Try it.

SENATOR PERCY ASKED TO RESIGN

Mississippi Legislature Requests Him to Quit Senate.

Jackson, Miss., March 5.—Asserting that he is retaining his seat "contrary to the wish and will of an overwhelming majority of the people of the state," the Mississippi legislature today adopted a resolution demanding that United States Senator Leroy Percy resign his office. In the senate the resolution was adopted by a vote of 26 to 13 and in the house 66 to 39.

The vote was along strictly factional lins, and is in direct sequence to differences within the state democratic party which originated with the selection of Mr. Percy by the last legislature to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator McLaurin over former governor, now United States Senator-elect James K. Vardaman. At the time charges were made that money was used to improperly influence members of the legislature in behalf of Senator Percy. At a court trial later, however, a jury declared the charges unfounded.

Subsequent to his election, Senator Percy was quoted as having said that if it was shown that the party-at-large in the state did not approve of his election he would resign.

In the election of last summer Mr. Vardaman won over Senator Percy and another contestant for the full senatorial term in the first primary. The present legislature was selected at the same election.

In the resolution adopted today election returns are cited to show that Mr. Percy received less than one vote of every six cast, and, continuing, the resolution insists that Mr. Percy tender his resignation, declaring that he "is in no sense the representative of the people of Mississippi in the United States senate."

Washington, March 5.—Senator Percy tonight hadn't received the Mississippi legislature's resolution calling for his resignation, and didn't care to talk about it. A few weeks ago in the senate he bitterly attacked Senator-elect Vardaman, his successor, and repeated a former declaration that he would resign when the legislature convened.

LOST THEIR EYES AND THEN HEADS

Christian Converts Blinded and Beheaded By Chinese Troops.

Heads Hang Warningly on Tripods in Pekin—Reports From the Provinces Indicate That Mutineers Are Still Burning and Looting.

Pekin, March 5.—A letter from a missionary at Hwang-Hsion, near Chi-Fu, received here today, states that the imperial troops put out the eyes of forty Christian converts and then beheaded them, saying that they were naturally rebels.

Heads still hang warningly on tripods in the streets of Pekin. Daily marches of detachments of troops from the various legations through the streets are having a certain moral effect. Stores still conduct their business cautiously through small windows. Soldiers of the various divisions of the Chinese army continue to squabble, and it is thought there is danger of one division attacking another.

Chang Ting-Fu, an important city on the railroad, about 160 miles to the southwest of Pekin, was added yesterday to the list of places which have been looted and burned. No details have reached here, but it is thought there need be no fear for foreigners there because the mutineers everywhere are observing the same rule of not touching strangers.

Parties of mutineers returned here today intending to resume looting. They were arrested and decapitated.

A private telegram says that 2,000 troops mutinied at Kiu-Kiang, in the Yang-Tse valley, and looted the town. French and Japanese troops have been despatched by special train from Pao Ting-Fu to bring back their companions.

SUN YAT SEN AND ADVISERS HAVE RESOLVED TO GO TO PEKIN

Nanking, China, March 5.—In an effort to restore order and inaugurate a stable government as soon as possible, it is understood that Dr. Sun Yat Sen and his advisers have decided to go to Pekin and make that city—for the present at least—the capital of the new republic. This step is regarded as advisable on account of the mutinous spirit evidenced by the troops in the vicinity of Pekin and the general unrest there.

It is believed here that the removal of the seat of government to Pekin will of itself restore order there. The formal establishment of the new government and the inauguration of Yuan Shi Kai as president will be undertaken immediately.

UNITED STATES GUNBOAT ORDERED UP CHINESE RIVER

Tien Tsin, March 5.—Two United States gunboats have been ordered to proceed from the Yang Tse river to Taku, at the mouth of the Pei Ho, 30 miles to the southeast of this city.

Three battalions of Japanese troops are expected to arrive here tonight to reinforce the international garrison.

The German troops, which have been acting as a protective force along the railroad between Pei Tang and Tang Shan, on the line from Tien Tsin to Chin Wang Tao, have been withdrawn to Tien Tsin, as it is considered by the foreign commandants that stronger forces than are at present available here are required.

Reports persist in Chinese circles that a body of native troops is advancing on Tien Tsin, but no confirmation of the report has been obtained from the city.

The city generally is quiet, but decapitations take place daily. Many of the shops have put up signs reading: "Already looted. Now empty."

THOUSAND PERSONS KILLED OUTSIDE BRITISH CONCESSION

Wei Hai Wei, March 5.—It is estimated that 1,000 persons were killed in recent fighting between the republicans and the villagers outside the British concession here. The republican troops are now in complete control.

TERRIBLE SCENES ENACTED IN CANTON AND ITS VICINITY

Hong Kong, March 5.—Serious unrest continues in the provinces of Kwang Tung and Kwang Si, where large numbers of discharged soldiers have taken to murdering and looting. The hills along the shores of the West river have been fortified as a protection against the marauding bands. Assassinations are of frequent occurrence and corpses are seen daily floating down the river.

Responsible Chinese assert terrible scenes are being enacted daily in Canton and its vicinity. These persons declare that if the state of affairs was known abroad the foreign powers would interfere and put a stop to the slaughter and looting. One prominent Chinese who refused to comply with the demands of a band of desperadoes found that during his absence from home all his family had been murdered.

Shameen, where the foreign settlement of Canton is situated, is protected by a barricade of sand bags, which have been painted so as to resemble British soldiers.

VICE COMMISSION IS URGED IN APPEAL TO MAYOR WINN

To appoint a vice commission to suppress every place of prostitution in Atlanta, a direct and personal appeal was made yesterday morning to Mayor Winn by a committee of citizens representing the executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement.

The mayor informed the committee that he had no powr to appoint such a commission without the sanction of the acting council, and upon his recommendation there will be a petition presented to council next Monday afternoon for the creation of such a commission.

The committee that called upon the mayor was as follows: J. K. Orr, Marion Jackson, H. A. Etheridge, John J. Eagan and Dr. C. B. Wilmer.

Presented in Writing.

The committee made its plan explicit in a written communication which was presented to the mayor. In that communication it was stated:

"The members of the executive committee of the Men and Religion Forward Movement are unanimous in requesting that houses of prostitution be suppressed in the city of Atlanta. In doing this we make no reflection upon the municipal and county authorities for not having heretofore enforced the law forbidding such places; with the majority, if not all of our citizeis, we have, by our silent, if not open approval of the non-enforcement of the law by them and their predecessors in office, become equally responsible with them for present conditions. But we believe that men are willing no longer to share the profits of this traffic in vice by compensating certain of our officials with money, paid under the guise of fines by these unfortunate women. Against them we urge no war; we offer homes to such of them as wish to leave the life; but we ask that the law be enforced against the man renting his property for such purposes, the woman trying to continue to live as a prostitute, and the man who participates in and causes her offense against society.

Differ as to Advisability.

"It is true that men differ as to the wisdom or practicability of this course of suppression, but we believe that this is largely due to ignorance of the facts; and we, therefore, suggest that your honor appoint a commission to investigate the social evil in Atlanta with a view to the adoption of the policy of constant and persistent repression of prostitution as the immediate method; absolute annihilation as the ultimate ideal. We would urge that this commission be instructed to report to your honor within sixty days from the date of appointment.

"In making this request we would call your attention that similar commissions have been appointed in Minneapolis and Chicago by their respective mayors. These have reported, recommending the suppression of the evil. In addition, the cities of Lincoln and Omaha, Des Moines, Fall River and Boston are now successfully pursuing a policy of law enforcement against prostitution."

WATER FOWLS IN LAKE ABANA MAY LOSE THEIR HOME SOON

Are the ducks, geese and other water fowls to be removed from the lake at Grant Park? That is a question the part commission is called upon to decide. The general manager stated that the fowls made it imposible to keeu the banks of the lake in good condition and recommended that the fowls be abolished.

Several members of the commission thought the water fowls one of the most attractive features of the park and did not want them to go. It was stated that the ducks and geese gave more pleasure to little children than the animals in the zoo.

The matter was referred to the zoo committee for a report.

The commission granted the Piedmont Driving Club the right to use a portion of Piedmont Park as a tennis court, provided the court was open to the public until 2 o'clock every day.

Instead of offering $100 for the best plan for a new cyclorama building, the commission decided to advertise for plans and specifications. The building is to cost about $15,000.

As the city council had called upon the commission to take care of the small areas adjoining the city hall, a request will be made for the necessary funds.

Commissioners Burnett, Young and Reynolds were appointed a special committee to confer with the county board in regard to grading in several of the parks. The county will be especially asked to widen Tenth street on the south side of Piedmont Park.

Another Booster Meeting.

Albany, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Twenty-nine vice presidents of the Southwest Georgia Industrial and Commercial Association will meet in Albany tomorrow to perfect their organization. The body is the outgrowth of the southwest Georgia "get-together" meeting, held here a couple of weeks ago and is in the nature of a sectional board of trade, or chamber of commerce. It is probable that at tomorrow's meeting here, steps will be taken looking to the organization in southwest Georgia of a body similar to that which is to represent this immediate section of the state. It is believed that the two, operating in conjunction, will be able to achieve the best results for south Georgia as a whole.

VOTERS GIVE REBUFF TO ASQUITH CABINET

London, March 5.—Sir A. A. Haworth, who sought re-election after his appointment as junior lord of the treasury, was defeated for parliament today for Manchester, south, by P. K. Glazebrook, the unionist candidate. Mr. Glazebrook's majority was 579.

Defeat of Haworth, which gives the unionists their sixth bye-election victory since the last general elections, is the greatest rebuke the government has yet sustained. It is considered largely due to dissatisfaction with the insurance bill and the ministerial handling of the coal crisis. The magnitude of the turn over of votes, changing a radical majority of 2,452 into a unionist majority of 579, has surprised everybody and is regarded as a bad omen for the government.

GAYNOR ATTACKED FOR CRITICISING JUDGE

Albany, N. Y., March 5.—Not a day passes without a fresh contribution to the complex literature of the Brandt case from some state official. The latest development comes from Attorney General Carmody, who takes up the cudgels against Mayor Gaynor for the latter's attack on some of the court procedure in the case.

"Mayor Gaynor's letter," says the attorney general, "is a gratuitous insult to an able and upright judge. The decision of a court is entitled to the respect of every one until it has been passed upon by a higher court. The motives of the court are not open to criticism.

"This case has apparently reached the point where it is necessary to depart from the facts and resort to abuse and the mayor may always be relied upon for a skilful wielding of that weapon. His eccentricities have long since ceased to have any other effect than to disappoint his friends and please his enemies."

HE "MUSHED" HIS DOGS OVER FROZEN TRAILS

Larned, Kas., March 5.—"Mushing" his dogs along frozen trails, Ben Starr, a veteran trapper of Pawnee Creek, dashed into Larned yesterday with his dog team and sledge on his annual trip to market his furs and pelts.

The heavy snow of last week made conditions in central and western Kansas similar to those of Alaska. Starr usually ships his pelts from Burdette on the railroad, but no train has moved over the branch line for more than a week.

The trapper was anxious to ship his stock, contracted for March 5, so he hitched up his coon dogs and began the journey to this place.

The dogs made the 24-mile drive in nine hours.

FOR GREAT SNAKE HUNT VILLAGE IS PREPARING

Byfield, Mass., March 5.—This town is preparing for a good old-fashioned snake hunt. In years gone by it was the custom of the inhabitants to set aside one day each year for killing the obnoxious blacksnakes which thrive in the woods. Of recent years this practice has been neglected, and the snakes have grown numerous and bold. On April 1, when the warm spring sunshine attracts the hibernating reptiles from their hiding places the men from the entire countryside will be on hand armed and ready to give them battle.

HOWARD BOOSTS OSCAR UNDERWOOD

Atlanta Congressman Out in Ringing Interview.

Circulars Containing Strong Indorsement of the Alabama Congressman Will Be Distributed by the Thousands.

Birmingham, Ala., March 5.—(Special.)—The recent interview of Hon. William Schley Howard, member of congress from the Atlanta district, in behalf of Oscar Underwood for president, has had a splendid effect and the Underwood campaign management in Alabama has received innumerable requests for circulars containing the interview.

In this interview the Atlanta congressman, who is a close personal friend of Leader Underwood, takes the position that Underwood is the logical candidate for the party to nominate and that the only possible ground upon which he could be denied the nomination is that he is a southern man. He does not think this argument should apply against a southern man, especially in the southern states. Underwood's leadership of the house, says Howard, puts him where his candidacy is not only logical, but imperative.

It is said that Mr. Underwood's case is more strongly presented in this interview of Congressman Howard's than in anything else that has yet been said on the subject.

Friends of Underwood in Mississippi have asked for 25,000 circulars containing Congressman Howard's article, and they are being supplied.

NO PROMISE GIVEN, SAYS T. ROOSEVELT

undertaking a great task if the people as a whole seemed definitely to come to the conclusion that I ought to do that task. As far as in me lies I am endeavoring to look at this matter purely from the standpoint of the public interest, of the interest of the people as a whole, and not in the least from my own standpoint.

"If I should consult only my own pleasure and interests I should most emphatically and immediately announce that I would under no circumstances run. I have had all the honor a man could have from holding the office of president.

"From every personal standpoint there is nothing for me to gain either in running for the office or in holding the office once more, and there is very much to lose."

Text of Letter to Munsey.

The letter to Mr. Munsey which Colonel Roosevelt gave out reads:

"January 16, 1912.—My Dear Munsey: I have received your long and cordial letter, together with the editorial. Permit me in the first place to thank you very warmly for the first editorial. It seems to me that in the editorial you have stated the case exactly; so exactly, my dear Mr. Munsey, that to my mind it in itself furnishes the answer to the request you make that I should openly announce that if nominated I would not refuse the nomination.

"Your great kindness and the disinterested friendliness of your action entitle you to receive from me in full a statement of the reason why I do not feel that, at the present time, it would be wise or proper for me to make any such statement. What the needs of the future may demand I cannot tell.

"You say that my keeping silence leads to misconstruction and gives opportunity for my enemies to make every kind of false statement about me, and to create in the minds of the people a false impression of me; some good people being led by my silence into the belief that it is useless to try to nominate me because I would certainly refuse, and others being misled into the belief that I am underhandedly intriguing for what I dare not openly ask; so that the impression on the public is detrimental to me.

Silence Deliberately Misrepresented.

"My dear sir, I entirely agree with you as to the fact that my silence is deliberately misrepresented by my enemies, with the purpose of confusing good people and getting them to take a wrong view; and moreover I entirely agree with you that this purpose is at least purely achieved. The trouble is that, as so often happens, this is a case where any course pursued would lead to just such misrepresentation, just such misjudgment, just such puzzling of the minds of good people. Personally, I think that any other course than the one I am adopting would at present lead to even more misrepresentation and misjudgment than actually exist. As I have again and again said, I am delighted to state my position fully and frankly, not only to any sincere and honest supporter, but to any sincere and honest opponent. What I have said to you, and am about to say to you, I have, for instance, said not only to other friends who think I ought to be nominated, but to friends (and even foes) who think I ought not be nominated, provided only I could trust their sincerity, intelligence and truthfulness. For instance, I have said the same things to Secretary Stimson, Secretary Meyer and Congressman Longworth, who are supporting Taft; to Mr. Pinchot and Congressmen Lenroot and Kent, who are supporting La Follette. I have said them to editors like Mr. Nelson, Mr. Van Valkenburg and Mr. Wright; I practically said them to the entire Aldine Club—democrats, republicans, everyone

Solely in Public Interest.

"I am not and shall not be a candidate. I shall not seek the nomination, nor would I accept it if it would come to me as the result of an intrigue. But I will not tie my hands by a statement which would make it difficult or impossible for me to serve the public by undertaking a great task if the people, as a whole, seemed definitely to come to the conclusion that I ought to do that task. In other words, as far as in me lies I am endeavoring to look at this matter purely from the standpoint of the public interest or the interest of the people as a whole, and not in the least from my own standpoint.

"If I should consult only my own pleasure and interest, I should most emphatically and immediately announce that I would under no circumstances run. I have had all the honor that any man can have from holding the office of president. From every personal standpoint there is nothing for me to gain, either in running for the office or holding the office once more, and there is very much to lose.

"Under such circumstances, if I consulted only my own interest, the obvious thing to do would be to announce that I would not obey any popular mandate, that I would not run if nominated. I shall not follow this course, because I am sincerely endeavoring to look at the matter from the standpoint of the popular interests. It is not only necessary for the people to have the right instrument, the right tool with which to work in any given emergency, but it is necessary that they themselves shall choose and shall believe in the sufficiency of that instrument. If, at this particular crisis, with the particular problems ahead of us at this particular time, the people feel that I am the one man in sight to do the job, then I should regard myself as shirking a plain duty if I refused to do it.

Wants to Do Job Worth Doing.

"What I am interested in, remember, is not in the least holding the office, but doing a job that is actually worth doing; this is the position that to the best of my belief I have always taken and always shall take. If the people should feel that I was the instrument to be used at this time, I should accept, even although I know that I should be broken and cast aside in the using. The right motto for any man is 'spend and be spent,' and if, in order to do a job worth doing from the public standpoint, he must pay with his own life, actual life on the field of battle, or political life in civic affairs, he must not grudge the payment. In short, I am not concerned with the welfare of any one man in this matter, not with Mr. Taft's welfare, nor Mr. La Follette's, and least of all, with my own; I am concerned only with the welfare of the people of the United States.

"Now your point is that when I feel thus I ought to be willing to state openly what I feel instead of answering as I have hiteherto answered, to those who have asked me whether I would accept if nominated, that in the words of Abraham Lincoln I was not required to cross that bridge until I came to it. The reason is that in making any statement it is not only necessary to consider what the man actually means and actually says, and will be understood as saying by people who intelligently accept his statement at its face value, but also to consider what the statement will be held to mean by the great mass of people who are obliged to get their information more or less at second hand, and largely through instrumentalities like most of the New York dailies, whose one purpose as far as I am concerned, is to invent falsehood and to distort truth. If at this time I announce that I would accept if nominated, it would be blazoned abroad by all my enemies and ultimately believed by a large portion even of my good friends and well wishers that I had in my own interest announced my candidacy, that I was an active candidate, that I was striving by every means to secure the nomination for president.

Why He Wouldn't Use Language.

"At this time—whatever may be the case in the future—I do not see that any other outcome could be expected. It is simply a case where the language would not be accepted at its exact face value and would inevitably be given a false construction; and this being so, it seems to be wise not to use the language. Let me illustrate what I mean by referring you to the language in which, after the election of 1904, I announced that I would not be a candidate for renomination. At the time good friends of mine suggested that I should use some such formula as stating that I would not be a candidate in 1908 because of the custom that had grown up not to elect a man as president for a third consecutive term; but on thinking it over I became convinced that if I used such language it would inevitably be taken as an announcement that I would be a candidate for another term in 1912—and this in spite of the fact that, of course, the language, if taken literally, would only have referred to 1908, and have had no more bearing on 1912 than on 1916 or 1948.

"Accordingly I used language which simply stated that I paid heed to the essence and not the form of the wise custom of our forefathers in reference to the third term; the essence, of course, being that the custom applied just as much when my first term was the filling out of an unexpired term of my predecessor as if it had been an elective term, and that on the other hand it had no application whatever to the candidacy of a man who was not at the time in office, whether he had or had not been president before. Yet, even as it was, men at once began to ask me whether my refusal was to be held to apply to 1912 or to 1916; to which I, of course, responded that it would be preposterous to answer any such question one way or the other. By the way, I may recall to you that the very papers which are now howling to have me make some public statement are the ones which four and five years ago, when I had made a definite public statement, were continually howling I should make some additional statement. These people, people such as the editors of the newspapers above referred to, are not honest; they do not wish the truth, and to pay any heed to their demands would be worse than folly. If at present I said what you think I ought to say, they would merely substitute a worse set of misstatements for the set to which they are now giving currency.

The Colonel Refers to Lincoln.

"Now, my dear sir, as to what you say as to the desirability, no matter what the result, of my being 'frank' and telling the whole public what I feel without regard to whether or not it can be misrepresented. Let me refer you to Lincoln. Surely there was never a more straightforward nor a more sincere man than Lincoln, nor a man who more unhesitatingly, whenever the fit occasion arose, took the public fully and freely into his entire confidence. But he consistently declined to make statements which, though true, would give opportunities for misrepresentation. He sometimes made denials of false and scandalous accusations, when he deemed it necessary; but again and again he refused to do so when he thought that the denial would merely do additional harm. When accused of having accepted money for a political speech, he wrote frankly to a correspondent who made inquiry, stating exactly what had happened, but adding, 'I have made this explanation to you as a friend, but I wish no explanation made to our enemies. What they want is a squabble and fuss, and that they can have if we explain; and they cannot have it if we do not.'

"Later, when nominated, he received, as he says, a large number of letters asking that he declare his opinions on certain political points, and a large number of letters beseeching him to write nothing upon those political points, and to all alike he answered that his position had already been taken, and that he had nothing to add to or take from it. Again, when he was asked to deny the statements that he had been in a Know Nothing lodge, he wrote confidentially to his correspondent saying that the allegation was false, but adding, 'Now a word of caution. Our adversaries think they would gain a point if they could force me openly to deny the charge.' In one of his letters he says in reference to the suggestion that he make public some disclaimer, that he does not intend to do so because in his judgment it would do no good, adding: 'Those who will not read or heed what I have already publicly said would not read or heed a repetition of it.'

The Colonel Fears "Bad Men."

"Now, my dear sir, it seems that the homely common sense with which Lincoln spoke in these letters which I have quoted, can be applied now. Nothing I could say, no statement or explanation by me, would avail to prevent deliberate misrepresentation by bad men, designed to puzzle and mislead good men who, from the nature of the case, could not be expected to have first hand information. They now misrepresent my position designedly and purposely. They would merely misrepresent it even more effectively if I should at this time make the statement you desire. It may be that in the end it will be necessary to make such a statement, or some other public statement; but the time is not now. I am well aware of the disadvantage of not making such a statement, but I think the disadvantage of making it would be greater. The position is a hard one. It is hard for me; it is in some ways harder for disinterested men like yourself, who believe that I could do service as president, and who naturally feel indignant that I do not come forward in a way which, as they think, would enable them to make me president (and, of course, the fact that I do not make it amply warrants you, and all who think as you do, in at any time supporting any other man instead of me).

"If my position were only a pose, I should certainly act differently from the way I am acting, for I am well aware that the way I am acting is not the way in which to act if I desire to be made president. But my attitude is not a pose, I am acting as I do because, according to my lights, I am endeavoring, in a not too easy position, to do what I believe the interests of the people demand. From this standpoint I am convinced that although it is entirely proper for other men to seek the presidency, it is neither wise nor proper for me to do so, the conditions being what they actually are.

Must Be Judged By Acts.

"I have been president; I was president for nearly eight years; I am well known to the American people; I am to be judged not by words but by my acts; and whether the people like me or dislike me, they have these acts all before them for their decision—and nobody, my dear sir, has helped more than you have helped, to put these acts clearly before them. My usefulness in the presidency as conditions now are would depend not merely upon the people wishing me to be president, but upon their having good reason to believe that I was president because of their wishes, because of their desire that I should do a given job, which they felt I could do better than anyone else, and not because of any personal ambition on my part.

"Under these circumstances, I must not put myself in a position which would look as if I were seeking the office, as if I were trying to get it for my own sake. I know well that this means, in all probability, as is else will be nominated and elected; for, where others actively seek the nomination, their friends, as instrunatural, actively work for them and give the shilful direction and leadership, without which even a strongly-aroused public opinion generally fails to find expression. Therefore, I have all along felt that even if there should be a strong popular demand for me (as to which I can pass no judgment), yet that, unless this demand were literally overwhelming, it could hardly make itself efftctive. But it seems to me that it is better that it should not make itself effective But it seems to by any action of mine I should make it seem that I desire the presidency for my own sake, or am willing to accept it unless it comes to me as the result of a real popular movement, giv'ng expression to a demand from at least a substantial portion of the plain people that I should undertake a given task in the interest of the people as a whole. Before I speak there should be some tangible evidence that such is the case.

TAFT IS DARED BY ROOSEVELT

To Test of Strength By Primaries in Every State.

Senator Dixon, Manager for Roosevelt, Sends Challenge to McKinley, Director for Taft—McKinly Makes Evasive Reply to Challenge.

Washington, March 5.—Senator Joseph M. Dixon, chairman of the Roosevelt executive committee, today challenged the Taft campaign forces to a "test by means of primaries in every state in the union." Senator Dixon conveyed the proposal in a letter to Representative William B. McKinley, director of the national Taft bureau.

Director McKinley tonight sent a letter to Senator Dixon asking if the proposal was made with the authority of Colonel Roosevelt and also asking if Senator Dixon were acting as chairman of the Roosevelt executive committee, either by selection or authority of the colonel.

The Challenge to Taft.

Senator Dixon's letter was as follows:

"My Dear Mr. McKinley: For the purpose of determining definitely whether the republican voters of the country desire Colonel Theodore Roosevelt or President Taft as their candidate in the approaching presidential campaign, I hereby challenge you to a test by means of primaries in every state in the union."

Senator Dixon states that the obvious purpose of both the republican campaign committees is to elect a republican next fall; that both are interested primarily in the success of the party, and that the first requisite to such success is to choose the candidate with the greatest popular strength.

"We ought to have a free and voluntary expression of opinion directly from the voters, who will carry the ballots that will determine finally the verdict at the polls," the letter continues. "The time to find out what the voters want is before the nomination is made rather than afterward. It will be too late after the convention is held."

Knocks National Committee.

Senator Dixon states that the republican national committee was not justified in leaving the primary question to the action of the states.

"In every state and district in the union proper arrangements can be made and effectively carried out," he says, "for securing a free and voluntary expression of the will of the republican voters. If it cannot be done by a state-wide primary, which would be preferable, it can be arranged for districts, under the supervision of proper committees."

The letter calls attention to the various states where arrangements have been or are being made for primaries and adds:

"With your co-operation, similar arrangements no doubt can be effected in all other states where legislatures are not now considering the enactment of presidential preference primary laws. I am informed that in several states where the presidential preference primary question is awaiting legislative action, the influence of men who are working with you is cast determinedly in opposition. Your co-operation with me in such matters, no doubt, would result in the enactment of these laws, and the considerable spread thereby of the presidential preference primary under direct legal sanction by the state.

Roosevelt Not Active Candidate.

"Let me call your attention again to the fact that Colonel Roosevelt has declared repeatedly that he is not an active candidate for the nomination, but will accept it if it comes to him as the demand of the voters of the party. His letter to Mr. Moore, of Pittsburg, sent out by your headquarters last night, and published in the newspapers this morning, is an additional proof of this attitude, and of the fact that in now saying he will accept the nomination under the conditions specified, he is merely responding to a popular demand.

"The voters of the country have an unquestionable right to express their desire, and I sincerely trust you will accept this challenge, and prepare to co-operate with me in the arrangement of such primaries.

"Commissioned officers are necessary to direct an army, but it is the rank and file that win the victories.
Respectfully yours,

"JOSEPH M. DIXON."

Taft's Reply to Challenge.

Director McKinley's letter in reply was brief. He wrote:

"I am just in receipt of your letter of the 5th instant, delivered by special messenger. Since you are pleased to apply to your communication so grave a term as challenge, it becomes somewhat important to have our respective relations to candidates made clear at the outset.

"I would, therefore, say that I have been asked by President Taft to act as director of a bureau with headquarters in Washington, organized for the purpose of securing his renomination for a second term. Before answering your challenge, I desire to know whether you are acting as chairman of the Roosevelt executive committee, either by selection or by authority of Mr. Roosevelt, and also whether your so-called challenge was issued by authority of Mr. Roosevelt, whose nomination for a third term as president, I understand you and your organization are attempting to secure. Respectfully yours,

"WILLIAM B. McKINLEY,
"Director National Taft Bureau."

NAGEL COMING TO THE SOUTH TO STUMP FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

Washington, March 5.—Birgingham, Ala., and Richmond, Va., are among the cities on the itinerary of Secretary of Commerce and Labor Nagel, who will speak for President Taft during the next few weeks. He will be in Birmingham on April 11, in Richmond March 23. Secretary Nagel, on March 8 and March 11, will speak in two Indiana cities, and later speak in Massachusetts and Rhode Island.

Collier Is for Roosevelt.

Auburn, N. Y., March 5.—Former United States Minister to Spain William Miller Collier today resigned as head of the delegation to the republican state convention because of the understanding that the delegation favored President Taft. "I believe in the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt and resign in order not to place myself in a false light," he said.

VEILED THREATS CHARGED TO TAFT

Roosevelt Managers Say President Is Menacing Officeholders.

Circular Letter Sent to Officeholders Hinting That Their Places Depend on Rounding Up Delegates for President. Copy of Circulars Given.

Washington, D. C., March 5.—The National Roosevelt headquarters today gave out a statement which said:

"Further evidence of the manner in which the administration campaign managers are conducting the fight for delegates has come to light in a circular letter which is being sent to postmasters and other federal employees throughout the northwest. That a similar form of letter is being sent out through the south already has been stated, but its exact terms have no as yet come to light.

Delicately Worded.

"The letters received by the federal emplyees in the northwest are very delicately worded—such letters as only the pen of the diplomatic Mr. McKinley could well turn out, and abound with veiled threats and plastic praise. Boundless enthusiasm is expressed, and it is declared without hesitation that the sentiment in favor of the nomination of President Taft is rapidly growing. Hints are then thrown out that assistance of all good officeholders is needed, Mr. McKinley evidently forgetting the optimism expressed in the preceding paragraph.

"Already several hundred of these letters have been sent out, it is stated, and more, said to contain a more personal tone, are in course of preparation for serving to job-holders who have displayed reluctance to rally to the support of the administration.

"In these latter epistles it is stated the hint as to what will be the portion of federal servants who fail to faithfully serve the interests of President Taft are made more plain."

One of the Taft Circulars.

With the statement the Roosevelt headquarters gave out a copy of one of the Taft circular letters, addressed in blank. After expressing optimism as to the outlook for Mr. Taft and the opening of the National Taft Bureau, the letter concludes:

It will be the aim of this bureau to conduct a dignified and energetic campaign in keeping with the President's high, conception of American statesmanship. I would therefore thank you to render such assistance as you can, consistent with your duties, and would appreciate an early reply, giving me such information as in your judgment will facilitate the work of the bureau.

"Very truly yours,
"WILLIAM B. McKINLEY, Director."

Taft's Manager Explains.

Representative McKinley said this afternoon in reference to the alleged activity among federal employees:

"Under the recent ruling of the civil service commission the managers of the campaign of any presidential candidate may inquire of any federal officeholder as to political conditions in his vicinity, and may even ask his own political preference, which I distinctly did not do in my letter of the 24th.

"No officeholder was asked by me to do anything which was not consistent with his duties under the law.

"In this connection I might suggest that Mr. Roosevelt's managers are as free as I am to write any officeholder in the United States at any time, and, what is more to the point, they are doing it."

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARY LAWS BEFORE TWO LEGISLATURES

Lansing, Mich., March 5.—Both houses of the Michigan legislature tonight postponed until tomorrow final action on the presidential preference primary law, the principal matter before the extra session. In the senate there were frank expressions that the house "should have a chance to kill the bill," while members of the house were unwilling to take the initiative in putting the bill to a final vote.

Senator Moriarty tonight addressed the senate in defense of his action in withdrawing his support of the proposed law, which action formed the basis of a special message from Governor Osborne last night.

Boston, March 5.—Direct election of district delegates to the republican and democratic national conventions this year with an expression of preference by the voters as to presidential candidates is provided for in a bill passed by the senate today. The bill now goes to the house, where sentiment is said to favor its passage.

TAFT HAS EDGE ON ROOSEVELT IN THE NEW YORK DISTRICTS

New York, March 5.—The republican state committee has received official reports of congressional district meetings in forty of New York's forty-three districts and announcement was made today by Secretary Gleason that at least thirty-six of the districts had designated as candidates for delegates to the Chicago convention supporters of President Taft. Candidates from four districts, according to the announcement, are Roosevelt supporters. Three districts have not been heard from, but their delegates were claimed for Taft.

"Our reports indicate that Roosevelt supporters will be placed on the ballot by designation in but four districts of the state," said Secretary Gleason, of the state committee.

Under the new law today is the last day for certifying candidates for delegates, subject to the primary of March 26. Supporters of Colonel Roosevelt in New York city are preparing to place opposition candidates favoring his nomination on the primary ballots by petition of 5 per cent of the enrolled republican voters. They have until March 11 to file these petitions.

G. O. P. OF THE FOURTH ALABAMA SPLITS ON TAFT AND ROOSEVELT

Montgomery, Ala., March 5.—Regular republicans of the fourth Alabama congressional district, in convention at Talladega today, indorsed Taft for president and elected as delegates to the national convention J. A. Bingham of Talladega, and J. I. Abercrombie of Shelby county.

Talladega, Ala., March 5.—A small number of delegates to the fourth district republican convention today left the hall and it is understood they will send a contesting Roosevelt delegation to Chicago on the ground that they were not given proper recognition today. The bolters were nearly all negroes.

Taft League Organized.

Concord, N. H., March 5.—The Taft League of New Hampshire was organized at a meeting of republicans from all parts of the state here today. Resolutions declaring for the re-election of President Taft were adopted. A letter indorsing the movement, signed by the senators and congressmen from this state, was read.

or who could prove to be a better leader, but it just happens that he combines all of these requisites and I do not believe that the south will take the position against him that he must be kept in the background for absolutely no other reason than because he is a southern man."

Born in Underwood's State.

Mr. Hutchens is a native of Alabama, having been born near Roanoke. He came to Georgia with his parents as a boy and has risen to the top of his profession in Georgia.

"When Underwood definitely announced for the nomination I wrote him a letter and volunteered my services. I am frank to say that my Alabama blood was stirred at the suggestion of an Alabama man for president and I did not hesitate to tender my services accordingly because I know Underwood and his people.

"I received a letter from Senator J. H. Bankhead, of Alabama, who is in charge of Underwood's campaign, thanking me for my offer of service and asking me to meet him in Atlanta and talk over the matter of my taking charge of Underwood's campaign in Georgia.

"Senator Bankhead was here on Monday and I went over the situation fully with him. He tells me that the suggestion of Underwood's name has caught the whole country, and I really believe with him that when the convention gets down to business Oscar Underwood as the nominee for president will be the outcome.

Will Concentrate on Underwood.

"Senator Bankhead tells me that so strong is the Underwood sentiment in Georgia that he does not believe there will be any opposition to him from either the Harmon or the Clark forces. Of course, we would like to see even the Wilson forces withdraw now in favor of Underwood and give the state's unanimous vote to our sister's son, as Alabama has done. In Alabama every candidate has retired from the field except Underwood, who has been accorded the unanimous vote of that state. Georgia ought to take the same course."

On being asked about the organization of the Underwood campaign in Georgia, Mr. Hutchens said:

"I will be at my headquarters from this time on and I want every man in Georgia who is interested in the suggestion of Underwood's name for president to communicate with me. I am going actively to work in the matter of organization and I have already been tendered the services of more than 300 Alabamians living in Georgia. The truth is, they really got me into this thing, for it was largely at their suggestion that Senator Bankhead requested me to take charge of the Underwood campaign in this state, and having assumed the responsibility, I propose to leave nothing undone to take care of Georgia's vote for Underwood."

WORKING TO SETTLE ENGLISH COAL STRIKE

London, March 5.—While the many meetings held during the day by the different parties most closely concerned in the coal strike were without result, it was reported tonight that the efforts of Sir George R. Asquith, the representative of the board of trade, in association with the recently formed conciliation committee, promise a favorable prospect of the resumption of the negotiations tomorrow looking to mediation, with some hope of success.

Nothing definite can be ascertained, but the indications point to a more conciliatory attitude all around, and it is said that the government is hopeful that the strike will end within a week.

O'DELL AGREES TO CLUB'S TERMS

Waivers Ae Asked For on Haold Johns.

The cases of Harold Johns and Al O'Dell, the two holdouts of the Crackers, have been definitely settled.

O'Dell has agreed to the club's terms He wires for transportation Tuesday. It was sent him at once. He will report for practice this week.

Johns decided to come to Atlanta and talk things over, but Manager Hemphill has decided that a change of residence during the ball season would not only do John good, but this club and some other club as well.

With this idea in view, Manager Hemphill has asked for waivers on the southpaw twirler. He has also written letters to the clubs of the Central League asking for offers for the southpaw twirler. As Johns lives in Seven Mile, Ohio, near Dayton, it is probable that the Dayton club will make a bid for his services, and Hemphill believes that it would please Johns, too.

Change Beneficial.

"Harry has been in this league a mighty longwhile," said Hemphill yesterday, "and a change would do him good; wouldgive him a chance to play better ball with some other club, help that other club and satisfy us too. All in all, I think that it is a wise move to let the southpaw go."

Martin Walsh, the younger brother of Ed Walsh, the big spitball star of the White Sox, has written the local mogul agreeing to the terms offered him and asking that transportation be sent. This has been done, and the big fellow will report this week.

Walsh is coming here to try out for a pitcher's position, but he is said to be even better as an outfielder, and as the Crackers are shy on outfield material, they may give him a chance to break in in the outerworks.

Pete O'Brien, the veteran second baseman, has arrived in the city, and will have his first workout at the park this morning. O'Brien is coming here at his own expense. He believes that he can make good with the Crackers, and Manager Hemphill is willing to give him a chance to do so.

Some of the other players are expected to arrive today. But on Thursday, Friday and Saturday the majority of them will report for workouts.

Games With Rome.

The games with the Rome, Ga., club, which were pending for April 5 and 6, have been definitely closed up, Manager Hemphill announcing that the team will go to Rome on those dates. The deal was definitely settled on Tuesday.

The games with the Albany club, managed by Bernie McCay, are still hanging fire. But Manager Hemphill expects to close them in a few days.

The reason for the booking of games with these clubs in other cities is to give the Crackers a chance to play away from home before they open up the season as during the first month of the season they are away from Atlanta the majority of the time.

ATHLETIC VETERANS JON TEAM TODAY

San Antonio, Texas, March 5.—Wet grounds and chilly weather prevented practice by the Philadelphia American League team today. The third exhibition game with the San Antonio (Texas League) team is scheduled for tomorrow afternoon. The locals have won the two games already played.

The veteran division of the Philadelphia team is expected Thursday to join the recruits in spring training. Sunday the regulars will play an exhibition game against San Antonio, and the same day the youngsters will play the Austin team of the Texas League.

JIMMY PERRY CLASSY WELTER

Main Bout Boy at Staten's Club Has Met the Best.

Harry Staten has booked the best card that he has ever shown at his club for the coming Saturday night. His main bout is going to be without a doubt the classiest welterweight bout ever staged in this city.

Jimmy Perry, of Pittsburg, and Bobby Reynolds, of New York, are the men who are scheduled to fight it out in the main bout. Reynolds has just arrived in the city, and his record is not obtainable at this time, but this fellow Perry has a record that is a peach.

1907—Lost to Harry Lewis, 6 rounds.
1908—Lost to Clarence English, 8 rounds.

Young Erne, 6 rounds, no decision.
Billy Berger, 6 rounds, no decision.
Guy Buckles, 5 rounds, no decision.
George Chip, 6 rounds, no decision.
Buck Crouse, 8 rounds, no decision.
Tommy Howell, 6 rounds, no decision.

From this list of bouts it will be seen that Perry is one of the best boys in the welterweight division. He lost to Clarence English on a foul in eight rounds, and a return match may be staged here at any time. One of the bout some time later in the month. promoters will probably book this

FIRST BALL GAME AT UNIVERSITY

By Clark Howell, Jr.

Athens, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—The first practice game of baseball this season at the University of Georgia will be played Wednesday afternoon on Sanford field, between last year's 'varsity men and substitutes, and the new men who are trying for various positions on the team. This will be the first chance Coach Anderson will have to see how the men show up under fire, although light practice was started last week.

Almost a hundred men have reported so far for practice, and interest is increasing daily. The schedule this year, the hardest the university has ever undertaken, demands a good team, and considering the unsettled weather conditions, the men have shown up in very good shape. The infield is an unknown quantity up to the present time, as every member of last year's infield has left college. However, there are several good men and last year's "reserves" trying for places.

Coach Anderson stated that by no means did he look for as good a team this year as last year's championship aggregation, as the batters do not give promise of being able to clout the pill with as much success as those of the 1911 team. He added that it was extremely doubtful what kind of team Georgia would have.

The team will sorely miss the services of Bartlett and Brooks, who were batters of prowess, but by the time the bunch is well organized, which will be about the 15th of March, it is expected that the men will hit their stride.

Among the old men and the reserves who are on the list of try-outs are the following and the positions they are trying for:

ERNIE MOROSS IS DISQUALIFIED

Ernie A. Moross, auto race meet promoter, and his agent, W. H. Wellman, have been disqualified by the contest board of the American Automobile Association, and suspended for a period of sixty days for postponing a race meet.

Moross made formal application to the contest board for official sanction for the promotion by him of automobile race meetings at the track of the Crescent City Jockey Club at New Orleans on February 17 and 18, during the Mardi Gras carnival.

These dates were assigned him, entries received and the meet advertised. Two days previous to the scheduled dates, Wellman cancelled said meetings without the consent of the board, a direct violation of rule 21 of the contest board.

Doves Start South.

Boston, Mass., March 5—The advance guard of the Boston National League baseball club left here today for the south to begin spring practice. Several players will join the delegation along the road. At New York a special train will be taken for Augusta, Ga., the training quarters

GROVER HAYES SLASHED TO RIBBONS BY FRANK WHITNEY

"Fighting Carpenter" Outpoints Famous Battler at Every Point in Furious Ten-Round Go at Gate City.

GROVER HAYES SLASHED.

Whitney's victory was surprising, but none the less was cleanly deserved. In every department of the ring game he proved a better man than Hayes. His blows were harder and cleaner, and both in and out he proved a puzzle that the more experienced fighter was totally unable to solve. In the tenth round he had Grover all but out. Hayes' holding saved him from a worse beating than the one he received. I called the first and second rounds even. The third, fourth and fifth belonged to Whitney. Hayes had a margin in the sixth and seventh, while Whitney had the eighth, ninth and tenth by a mile. Had a decision been given from the ring, no one could have murmured a protest had the referee held up Whitney's glove.

DICK JEMISON.

GROVER HAYES SLASHED.

There was no question about the victory of Whitney. He won all the way. In infighting and at long distance, in foot work and generalship he was Hayes' master. Hayes' poor judgment of distance was surprising, and his covering and holding showed that the bout was far from a pleasant pastime for him. There was little to the first and second rounds, with Whitney having the shade in each. The third, fourth and fifth were Whitney's. Hayes flashed in the sixth and deserved that round. The seventh was about even. The eighth, ninth and especially the tenth were Whitney's by a big margin.

FUZZY WOODRUFF.

Frank Whitney, of Chicago, the "Fighting Carpenter,' took another step higher in the lightweight class when he earned what would have been a clear-cut decision had the referee given one, over Grover Hayes, "The Battler," of Columbus, Ohio, at the Gate City Athletic Club last night.

Whitney had all the edge of the scrap, Hayes having but a slight margin in the sixth and seventh rounds. The first and second were even, while in the other six, Whitney's margin was so great as to be beyond question.

It was announced before the battle that no decision would be rendered, the fighters having agreed on this, it being left to the newspaper men which man should have the decision. The Constitution, therefore, picks Whitney without a shadow of doubt.

The victory of the local favorite was a surprise to his many friends at the ringside, and he had most of them that were there. They started yelling for him in the first round, and continued it throughout the entire mill.

Whitney First Always.

Whitney beat Hayes, to the punch on all kinds of fighting. On the long-distance stuff, he stood off and picked Hayes' face until he had it cut. On the infighting he was far the superior of the "Battler," with the exception of the two rounds mentioned, and it was Whitney who always carried the fight. The edge given Hayes in those rounds were the result of the infighting.

Hayes held on and frequently held Whitney's glove, when head to head they were pounding away at one another. Had it not been for this, Whitney would probably have outpointed him even further.

In the third Hayes came out of his corner and proceeded to walk into Whitney, but he found the Carpenter there with the exchanging ability, while he frequently stopped him coming in with his straight left. Whitney seemed to catch the blows started by Hayes and land one himself at the same time.

Margin Grows Bigger.

In the fourth, Whitney had the edge in every way. There was no time that Hayes had him in any danger. In the fifth, by actual count, Whitney landed ten blows to three for Hayes, giving him a margin that was great.

In the sixth, Hayes got the better of the exchange of punches in the infighting, and it was in this that he shot home the only real hard blow that he landed on Whitney during the entire mill. It was a right hook to the stomach, and for the remainder of the round Whitney was protecting himself.

Hayes also had a little edge in the seventh, using swinging blows with both hands that landed, though they did no great amount of damage.

The eighth, ninth and tenth were so easily Whitney's that there is no use going into detail. In the final round, Whitney shot home a right to the stomach and Grover looked for a second like he was about to go, but his wonderful recuperative powers saved him.

Whitney is coming, and coming fast, and his victory over Hayes is a big feather in his cap. If he can outpoint the Battler, and outpoint him he did, he is going to make it extremely interesting for the best boys in the lightweight division.

In the semi-windup of the evening, Jeff Gaffney, the fighting actor, had all the edge over Young Hector, the local Greek, knocking him flat for the count of seven, in the second, and scoring another knockdown later in the fight.

Gaffney was heavier, and this is said to Hector's credit, who put up a game exhibition, and in one round had the actor on the run. However, Gaffney agrees to train to 118 pounds and take on Hector for a bout, winner take all.

In the first preliminary— between Billy Phillips, of NeNw York, and Kid Overalls, of Atlanta—Referee Murphy stopped the bout in the second round. It was too tame.

In the second preliminary, Soldier Walden, from the Seventeenth infantry, at Fort McPherson, earned the decision over Young Seymour, the Atlanta boy. Walden packs one of the most vicious kicks ever seen in a local ring, and with a little more experience he is going to make the best of them step some.

All in all, it was one of the classiest cards ever put on here, and few better could be seen anywhere.

YELLOW JACKETS START OUTDOORS

By R. L. Hughes.

Monday afternoon the Yellow Jackets' baseball squad started signing out of the mills and shops. The students are scheduled for shop and mill work in the afternoon at Tech, but the baseball candidates are allowed to sign out at 4 o'clock instead of 5.

This only leaves a little over an hour for practice. As this short period is all the time that is available for practice at Tech, Coach Heisman is greatly handicapped in rounding out a creditable team, and it is, indeed, a wonder that he has succeeded so well in the past. It is a great handicap.

Between short practice hours and the study proposition, for athletes at Tech must be good students, it is a puzzle to figure out how the Jackets ever develop a winning nine, and certainly the lion's share of the credit should be given Coach Heisman.

The prospects are bright this season for a good fielding and batting team, but again comes the wail that pitchers are wanting. Plenty of good material for every position on the team except the box.

Last year Coach Heisman developed an excellent pitcher out of a first baseman, and it seems as though he is going to try the same remedy again this year, as he has Drake, last year's first-sacker, working in the box.

Calhoun and Smith, on whose shoulders fell most of last year's pitching, were not returned, and their presence will be doubly missed. Hubert is back and, though he does not possess any great speed or marvelous curves, is steady and helps to win his games by hard hitting.

Eubanks, from K. M. I., comes with a good record from prep circles. Up to the present time, however, the pitchers have not been allowed to turn loose their curves, but as soon as warm weather sets in they will start the bending.

Last week Coach Heisman started the spring carving, reducing the squad from sixty-five to about half the number. Also the faculty got busy at the same time and several of the best men on the squad were suspended from practice until they can pick up in studies.

JACKSON AND BARR JOIN NAPOLANDERS

Mobile, Ala., March 5.—Outfielder Joe Jackson, accompanied by Hyder Barr, a Nap recruit, joined the Cleveland American League team here today, coming from New Orleans, where they have been visiting. Jackson asking permission to report earlier than the other infielders and outfielders, who arrive here March 8. Rain prevented the regular practice of the Naps today.

Mud Stops Giants.

Marlin, Texas, March 5.—Mud without visible limits again today interfered with the training of the New York National League team here. Cold weather here has interfered with training plans.

Jennette v. Harris.

New York, March 5—A colored heavyweight battle of note is scheduled for the Long Acre Athletic Association here on Thursday night, when Joe Jeannette and Morris Harris tie up in a ten-round engagement.

Baldwin v. Marto.

EASY VICTORY FOR M'FARLAND

New York, March 5.—Packey McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, won all the way in a ten-round bout with "One-Round" Hogan, of California, at the Fairmont Athletic Club here tonight.

McFarland led so easily all the way that many thought he could have scored a knock-out, but he appeared to hold back to allow Hogan to last the ten rounds. The Chicago man landed enough blows to knock out six men if he had used more steam, but he seemed to delight in keeping Hogan tantalized without allowing him more than two or three clean blows.

Hogan weighed in at the ringside at 137½ pounds, an even pound heavier than McFarland. The bout began with McFarland leading with two lefts to the face, and an attempt at a right swing, which missed, and sent McFarland to the floor by the force of his own blow, but he was up in a second and began fighting his man all over the ring and into his corner with lefts to the face and right uppercuts. He used this combination repeatedly throughout the bout, and seemed to have Hogan puzzled. The Californian hit only at short range, and did not land a single straight blow in the second.

McFarland landed with rights to the body and swings to the head in the third, and Hogan returned weakly. In the fourth Hogan started for the first time to mix up, but McFarland was quick and clever with lefts to the face and right uppercuts. He used these blows effectively through the fifth, sixth and seventh as well. In the latter round he started Hogan's nose bleeding.

In the eighth Hogan made his best showing, landing a right swing, which started McFarland's nose bleeding. Packey was promptly all over his man again, and through the ninth and tenth held his easy lead by using his left to face and a right uppercut. Hogan tried to slug back, but was plainly weak.

Howard v. Flynn.

New York, March 5.—Willie Howard and Jimmie Flynn, two promising lightweights, will do battle for ten rounds before the Queensboro Athletic Club here on Friday night.

Where Does He Stand?

(From Harper's Weekly.)

In spite of "If they don't take Taft they'll get me," we think the colonel felt bound by his declaration not to run in 1908. But now it doesn't bind him. It is waste paper.

Some persons think he ought to say so. Anything he might say on the subject would be interesting, but perhaps not now important. The fact is the important thing, and the fact is that if enough voters want the colonel to run, and he thinks proper to gratify them, no paper renunciation will hold him back.

In so far as we are concerned, that is an entirely satisfactory condition. We would rather have the colonel and every other man in the country feel entirely free to run for president whenever he seems to be wanted. If the country can't take care of itself it had better take whatever medicine is necessary and shake down to some new basis. It ought not, after a hundred years and some odd decades of existence, to rely on the forbearance of any citizen to save it from despotism. If it can't swim at this age without water-wings, it had better take a ducking. The third-term tradition is a handy thing, but it is not law, and never should be law. It is just a salutary prejudice that the colonel will come up against if he ever runs again, and its motto is nemo me impune lacessit.

EIGHT YANKEES YET TO REPORT

Ten Players Reported By Noon on Tuesday.

The Yankee recruits who arrived in the city Tuesday brought a lot of rain with them, which prevented them from joining their teammates already on the job in a workout at Ponce de Leon park.

George McConnell, the big twirler who worked for Rochester, in the Eastern League, last season and was the star twirler of that aggregation, is the "white hope" of the Yankees' team. And on him Manager Wolverton is relying for some good pitching. He was one of the latest arrivals in the city, blowing in here Tuesday morning.

Russell Ford, the star spitballer of the club and a former Cracker, was also a Tuesday arrival. Russell looks fit as a fiddle and believes that he will be able to deliver a better brand of ball this season than ever before.

A Cracker Possibility.

Bennie Kauff, who was with the Yankees when they trained at Athens last spring and was then shipped to Bridgeport, in the Connecticut State League, for further seasoning, signed on the register at the Imperial on Tuesday.

Kauff is an outfielder and it is said that he is going to be turned over to the Crackers for further seasoning. With Bridgeport last season he hit at a .294 clip in 116 games, scoring 59 runs and making 133 hits, among them 13 two-baggers, 14 three-baggers and 4 circuit smashes. He also purloined 48 bases. He fielded .937.

Anothrer Ones

Shears, a lanky twirler from Paris, in the Blue Grass League, a battery mate of Sam Mayer, the Atlanta boy, who is with the Crackers this season, is also here. He may get a try-out with the Crackers.

William Upham, who comes from the same team as Kauff and who also received a try-out previously with the Yankees, is in the city, arriving from his home Tuesday. He is a big pitcher.

Guy Zinn, who appeared in the Southern League in a Memphis uniform once before and who played a few games with the Yankees last fall, blew in from his home in Clarksburg looking heavier than when he was here previously.

The last arrival was Catcher Jack Tonneman, formerly of the Nashville team, the man that Bill Bernhard was hot after for this year's Memphis club. Tonneman is a grand catcher and would make the Atlanta club a mighty good man.

But Jack does not believe he will be a Cracker. He is an aspiring young man and believes that when he shows his wares to Manager Wolverton that he will be selected as the third catcher of the New York bunch.

Hemphill After This One.

However Manager Hemphill has made a bid for his services and if Tonneman does not show the required big league class set by Wolverton, the chances are he will revert to the Crackers. But it is going to take some tall hustling on the part of the other catching recruits to beat him out for a place, as he is in grand shape, pulling in here from Hot Springs, where he has been "boiling out."

Infielders Roy Hartsel and Dolan were late arrivals Tuesday. Hartsel is the star utility man of the Yankees. He will be used in the infield by the Yankees during the coming season.

With these arrivals the men yet to arrive are Chase, Sweeney, Wolter, Williams, Cree, Caldwell, Fisher and Vaughan. Wolter, Cree and Sweeney will be late, but the others are expected to report today.

Men Now Here.

The complete list of Yankees now on the ground is:

Pitchers—Ford, McConnell, Martin, Shears, Hoff, Quinn, Clarke and Upham.

Catchers—Street, Tonneman, Appleby and Bergen.

KNOX GUARDED IN NICARAGUA

Because of Anti-American Propaganda Circulated by Friends of Zelaya.

Managua, March 5.—American Secretary of State Philander C. Knox and his party traveled from Corinto today to Managua on a special train which was heavily guarded in consequence of an anti-Knox and anti-American propaganda which had been industriously circulated by former Zelaya ofifcials and expatriated Colombians. These persons represented taht the visit of Secretary Knox meant further American domination.

A pilot train, carrying fifty soldiers, with a machie gun, in position, preceded the special, while a third train followed, carrying 100 soldiers, with another machine gun.

The 10 miles between Corinto and Managua was traversed in six hours, the trains stopping occasionally for a close inspection of the tracks. No untoward incident occurred.

Secretary Knox arrived here from Corinto at 9 o'clock tonight, and was accorded a hearty welcome. A platform had been erected near the station, from which President Adolfo Diaz greeted the secretary. Mr. Knox responded briefly, and was then driven to the presidential palace, where he and Mrs. Knox will be guests during their stay in Managua.

SECRETARY STIMSON FOR PRESIDENT TAFT

Chicago, March 5.—Henry L. Stimson, of New York, secretary of war, and the Roosevelt candidate for governor of New York in 1910, tonight declared himself for President Taft, and said that while he remained the "sincere friend" of Mr. Roosevelt, he could not support him for the presidential nomination.

In a speech before the Taft Club of Illinois tonight, he declared his belief that President Taft's administration represented the highest expression of progressive republican policy.

"I am here tonight to speak for the renomination of President Taft," said Mr. Stimson. "I am now and always have been a progressive.

"I am for Mr. Taft because I believe he has faithfully carried out the progressive faith of the republican party; that his administration stands for orderly, permanent progress in our national government, and that to refuse him the nomination on the assertions that have been made against him would be a blow to that progress and would put a premium upon hasty and unfounded criticism.

"I entered into public life under the inspiration of Theodore Roosevelt. I am a firm believer in the great national policies for which he has fought, and I now remain his sincere friend. But I believe that those who are forcing him, contrary to his original intention, into the arena against Mr. Taft, are jeopardizing instead of helping the real cause of progress in the nation."

REFUGEES FILL BORDER TOWNS

The Exodus of Foreigners From Mexico Continues.

Hundreds of American Women and Children Have Reached El Paso—The Foreigners Are Also Fleeing From the City of Mexico.

FRANCE ORDERS WARSHIP TO WATERS OF MEXICO

Paris, March 5.—The French government today decided to send a warship to Mexico, after considering the reported fears of anti-foreign movement in that country. The ministry of marine has ordered the cruiser Descartes at Rio Janeiro to proceed to Mexico, where France has important interests.

El Paso, Texas, March 5.—One hundred and fifty Americans, most women and children, from the American lumbering town of Madera, today were brought into El Paso by the Mexico northwestern railroad from Pearson, their first stopping place after leaving Madera.

With the exception of a small hospital staff at Pearson, every American woman and child in the towns of Madera and Pearson, Mexico, is on United States soil.

About 400 American men are left at Madera. These are fully armed and able to meet any situation that may arise.

Hundreds of Americans and other residents in Mexico, it is declared, will flock here this week. They have placed the most serious construction on President Taft's warning. They are getting out of the country, which seems to them to be doomed to anarchy.

When Rev. Father C. K. Pinto, an American citizen, was held up in his mission church at Juarez Sunday and before he was rescued by Mayor Kelley, of El Paso, he promised under duress to send a check for $100 to General Rojas. The check was mailed today, as the priest insisted on keeping his word, but not before the check had been photographed and a copy of the picture sent to Washington.

Fleeing From Mexico City.

Mexico City, March 5.—The exodus of foreigners continued unabated tonight. The regular northbound train, via Laredo, carried two extra sleeping cars, in a total of four, and several extra day coaches, with all available space occupied. The train left in two sections. One of the sleepers was filled with women and children from Eloro, a mining camp, a hundred miles northwest of here.

It is declared in well-informed quarters that two-thirds of the foreign women and children have left or have made all preparations to leave the country, and many of the wealthy Mexican families are likewise departing.

Members of the German and British colonies held meetings last night and today to discuss methods of procedure for self defense if it should become necessary. No definite plan had been arrived at tonight.

GENERAL DIAZ REFUSES TO TAKE PART IN CIVIL WAR

Paris, March 5.—"What I promised my compatriots was that I would return (to Mexico) should war break out against a foreign enemy; and not that I would return to take part in the struggle of the parties. I have no intention of intervening in the strife of the parties, especially while they have not recovered their reason."

This was the statement Porfirio Diaz telegraphed to The Associated Press today, when he was asked to amplify a letter written to friends in New York.

Diaz is on the French Riviera.

MADERO DENOUNCES OROZCO A TRAITOR AND INGRATE

Mexico City, March 5.—Ambrozio Figueroa, Madero's trusted chief of rurales in Gurerrero and Morelos, and during the previous revolution his greatest ally in the south, is reported tonight to be in revolt. The news of Orozoco's change of front caused a sensation among the southern Maderistas, 1,500 of whom have re-enlisted under the banner of the new revolution. Orozoco and Figueroa, according to dispatches from Cuernavaca, have long been in communication, and the Guerrero leader is said to have known for many days of the former's intention to desert Madero.

President Madero bitterly denounced Orozco today in the course of an address to about 100 students at the national palace. Incidentally he gave the first official acknowledgement that his erstwhile chief had deserted the Madero standard.

In exhorting the students to fulfill their patriotic mission manfully, he held Orozco u pto scorn as a traitor and an ingrate.

The cadets were fourth-year students from the capital. About seventy of them have received commissons and will leave at once for the campaign against Orozco.

Be Careful.

(From The San Francisco Argonaut.)

A sightseeing visitor recently went aboard a tramp steamer in the harbor. Noting that the deck hands were Chinese, she approached one of them and said: "You no speak English?" The Chinaman looked bored and answered nothing. The woman continued: "Me go your country soon. Me learn speak Chinese, teach little Chinese boy and girl. You savvy missionary?"

The Chinaman looked at her a minute and answered: "Madam, if you are not more successful in mastering our language than you appear to have been with your own, I fear that your attempt to enlighten our race will prove anything but satisfactory. Good afternoon."

The Chinaman sought the other side of the ship and the woman sought oblivion. She had been addressing a Yale graduate who was working his passage back to China.

BERTHA WILSON STRUCK BY TRUCK

Arthur Houston, the Driver, Says He Did Not See the Child.

Little Bertha Wilson, 8 years old, of 81 Howell Mill road, was knocked down by an automobile truck of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company yesterday afternoon and is seriously injured, it is feared internally. She was rushed to the Grady hospital.

Arthur Houston, of 118 Edgewood avenue, who was driving the truck, appeared at police station some time after the accident in company with A. Montgomery and gave bond for his appearance in court on a charge of reckless running of an automobile.

The accident occurred at the corner of Hemphill and Tenth streets. The little girl was on her way home and was crossing the road when struck by the car. It is said that Houston did not see her at all and that he did not know of the accident until after it had happened. The child's father, W. B. Wilson, is engineer at the state capitol.

BURNS AGENCY WINS FAVOR OF COMMITTEE

Detective Burns' proposed detective agency will soon be established in Atlanta if the board of police commissioners accepts the report of the committee appointed to consider the application.

The decision will be made next Tuesday night. Last night the committee of three, composed of Commissioners Johnson, Fain and White, met at police station to consider Detective Burns' application to establish a detective agency in Atlanta. The committee was in favor of the plan.

Uncertain.

What Would a Man Be Doing With a Ladder at Night? ∴ ∴ ∴ By "Bud" Fisher.

I'VE GOT A LETTER FROM MUTT. HE SAYS HIS WIFE HASN'T LET HIM OUT OF THE HOUSE SINCE SHE TOOK HIM BACK. HE SAYS FOR ME TO COME AROUND TONIGHT AND PUT A LADDER UP TO HIS WINDOW AFTER HIS SPOUSE GOES TO BED SO HE CAN SNEAK OUT FOR A WHILE
WELL, WHAT DO YOU WANT?
NOTHING!

ATLANTA'S STRIDES, DAY BY DAY

ALL THE NEWS OF REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING

While the bad weather again set in on Tuesday and lent a slight backset to business that had been projected during the last several clear days, the sales and building announcements of the day were very encouraging. The leading sales announcement involved the southeast corner of Currier and Courtland streets, which sold for approximately $215 a front foot. No. 78 East North avenue sold for a shade more than $207.50 a front foot, and the sale of this lot involved the construction of a $25,000 apartment house. Other smaller sales were announced.

Currier Street Corner Sold.

V. B. Smith, of Thomson & Lynes agency, has sold for himself to Martin May, No. 29 Currier street, for a consideration of $15,000. The greater part of this consideration was cash, a small piece of property being taken in part payment at a nominal consideration.

The property consits of a ten-room house, on a lot 70x70 feet. It is located on the southeast corner of Currier and Courtland streets, one block east of Peachtree street. Mr. May will remodel the house and convert it into an apartment house.

This property was bought last August by Mr. Smith for $12,000, showing an enhancement of $3,000 in seven months.

North Avenue Sale.

The property is on the north side of North avenue, at the head of Courtland street, and is one block east of Peachtree street. The lot fronts 65 feet and has a depth of 106 feet. There is a two-story frame residence on the lot.

$25,000 Apartment House.

Mrs. Garner said Tuesday that A. Ten Eyck Brown has plans drawn for the erection of a $25,000 apartment house on the lot, and that the work on its construction will start as soon as the present house on the lot has been torn away.

The apartment house will be three stories high. There will be two apartments on each floor.

Corner Stores Sold.

Ansley & Scott have sold for Mrs. M. H. Garner, to the Harper & Weathers Realty Company, the southeast corner of Hunter and Grant streets for a consideration of $5,000, or $100 a front foot.

The lot fronts 50 feet on Hunter street, with a depth of 83 feet along Grant street. It is improved with a store and residence building.

The Greene Realty Company has sold for W. H. Wright, to T. S. Wilkins, the southeast corner of Forrest avenue and Butler street for a consideration of $11,000. The lot is 48x150 feet, and is improved with a store and a dwelling. The same agency sold this place a month ago for $10,000.

BENJAMINE C. YANCEY ROME'S YOUNGEST MAYOR

Rome, Ga., March 5.—(Special.)—Judge Benjamin C. Yancey, who was today elected mayor of Rome is the youngest man who has ever held that position, and the only mayor Rome has ever had who was born in the city. He is 33 years of age, his parents at the time of his birth living on what is now known as Second avenue, next door to the present residence of Judge Yancey.

JUDGE BENJAMIN C. YANCEY,
Whose excellent administration as city recorder has resulted in his election as mayor of Rome.

He is the son of Colonel Hamilton Yancey of this city, and the grandson of Colonel Benjamin C. Yancey, once minister to Brazil, and grand-nephew of the south's celebrated orator and statesman, William L. Yancey, of Alabama. Judge Yancey is engaged in the insurance business, being manager of the firm of Y. Yancey & Son, and has been very successful. For the past two years he has been city recorder, and it was largely due to his excellent administration of that office that he was elected to the mayoralty. He will be sworn in as mayor on the first Monday in April and will serve for two years.

F. S. Marron, R. H. McClain and E. W. Best were elected councilmen without opposition, a very light vote being cast. Tomorrow at noon council will meet and declare the result officially. These gentlemen will also be inducted into office the first Monday in April and will remain for two years.

STEEL COMBINE DENIES GOVERNMENT CHARGES

New York, March 5.—The United States Steel Corporation and other defendants made public today an answer to the federal government's petition for a permanent injunction to prevent the destruction of books and papers which might be used as evidence in the evidence of the affairs of the steel corporation. The answer denies the allegation of the government that papers of the American Steel and Wire Company, which were destroyed last fall, would have shown that J. A. Farrell, now president of the United States Steel Corporation, aided or abetted in the operation of the wire pool, for which many officers of the "wire trust" were fined, disclaims any attempt to conceal or suppress from the government any papers or documents bearing upon the conduct of the steel business and declares absolutely without ground the "imputation" that any of the defendants are about to destroy or likely to destroy pertinent papers, or that an injunction is necessary for their preservation.

RAIDS BEING MADE ON SUFFRAGETTES

London Authorities Resolved to Give Militant Women Taste of the Law.

London, March 5.—In pursuance of the determination of the government fully to test the efficacy of the existing laws to deal with the latest tactics of the militant suffragrettes, before resorting to special legislation to make the funds of the suffrage societies liable for damage done by their members, the police tonight raided the offices of the Women's Social and Political Union in Clements Inn. They arrested Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Pethick Lawrence, joint editors of Votes for Women, who were taken to the Bow street police station. The police also arrested Miss Christabel Pankhurst, They took possesion of the office. The leaders of the union are charged with being responsible for the latest window smashing campaign. They will presumably be tried under the conspiracy laws.

Members of the union seen tonight declared that the departure in inflicting hard labor sentences upon those convicted of taking part in the recent demonstrations, and in arresting the leaders will only produce a bigger crop of volunteers for militant work.

The weakness of the suffragist cause, however, is seen in the fact that the great majority of women denounce the militant actions, which, they declare, are being carried too far.

Two of the suffragettes who took part in last night's window smashing campaign in Victoria street, near the houses of parliament, were sentenced today to two months' imprisonment at hard labor.

The magistrate has 150 cases against suffragettes still to deal with, 87 of them arising from the serious riots of last Friday, when the accused caused damage to the extent of $25,000, and the others in connection with last night's disturbances.

Alice Wright, described as an American residing in Paris, was sentenced today to two months' imprisonment at hard labor on a charge of window smashing yesterday morning.

All the other women who engaged in the raid yesterday in the west end received similar sentences.

Dr. Simon Flexner, of the Rockefeller Institute, of New York, who is lecturing this week bfeore the London, Eng., Royal Institute on public health on the specific treatment of infectious diseases, is the first American ever invited to speak before that body. Dr. Flexner also went to Edinburgh and lectured before the university on March 3 on the serum treatment during an epidemic of meningitis.

SCOVILLE DIES IN BIRMINGHAM

Well-Known Hotel Man Once Ran Two Houses in Atlanta.

Birmingham, Ala., March 5.—George Wallace Scoville, one of the best known hotel proprietors in the south, died suddenly here tonight of pneumonia. Mr. Scoville at different times had conducted prominent hotels in Lynchburg, Charlotte and Birmingham, and at the time of his death had extensive interests in various parts of the south.

Telegrams were received in Atlanta last night that the body of Mr. Scoville would be brought to this city tonight and taken immediately to the undertaking establishment of H. M. Patterson and son, where the funeral services will be conducted Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

Mr. Scoville is survived by two brothers, Levi, of Birmingham, and Dabney, of Atlanta, both well known hotel men, and one sister, Miss Eliza Scoville, of Birmingham.

Mr. Scoville lived for many years in Atlanta. He was proprietor at one time of the old Markham House, and afterwards was proprietor of the Kimball.

After leaving Atlanta he went to Charlotte, where he had charge of a hotel. He ran hotels for a number of years at Sweetwater Park and at Indian Springs.

Recently he and his brother Levi had been running the Morris hotel in Birmingham. He was a man about 55 years old. While a resident of Atlanta he served as a director in a number of companies, doing building and loan and insurance business.

NOT GUILTY VERDICT FOR EX-MAYOR SCMITZ

San Francisco, March 5.—Former Mayor Eugene E. Schmitz, was acquitted in Judge Lawler's court here today of the charge of having bribed former Supervisor Wilson in a case growing out of the San Francisco graft prosecutions. In instructing the jury to bring in a verdict of not guilty, Judge Lawler said sufficient evidence to convict had not been offered.

Hanged for Killing Girl.

Harrisburg, Pa., March 5.—Joseph A. Stott, aged 29, was hanged today for the murder of Blanche Taylor in Harrisburg last June. Stott admitted he killed her because she had refused to marry him.

APermanent Cure For Chronic Constipation

Although those may dispute it who have not tried it yet thousands of others, who speak from personal experience, assert that there is a permanent cure for chronic constipation. Some testify they were cured for as little as fifty cents, years ago, and that the trouble never came back on them, while others admit they took several bottles before a steady cure was brought about.

The remedy referred to is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It has been on the market for over a quarter of a century and has been popularized on its merits, by one person telling another. The fact that its strongest supporters are women and elderly people—the ones most persistently constipated—makes it certain that the claims regarding it as a permanent cure for constipation have not been exaggerated.

It is not violent like cathartic pills, salts or waters, but operates gently, without griping and without shock to the system. It contains tonic properties that strengthen the stomach and bowel muscles so that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with and nature is again solely relied on. Among the legions who testify to these facts are Mr. E. Garraux, 337 Georgia Ave., Atlanta, Ga., and Mrs. Lula Osborne, Seneca, S. C., and they always have a bottle of it in the house, for it is a reliable laxative for the family from infancy to old age.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a druggist at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

COTTON FIRMER; CABLES BETTER

Market Closed 12 to 17 Points Net Higher—Spot 10 Points Up.

New York, March 5.—The cotton market was more active and decidedly firmer today on more aggressive support from leading bull interests, covering by recent sellers, and increasing nervousness over the start of the new crop, as a result of unfavorable weather and more numerous complaints of delayed farm work. The close was firm and from 12 to 17 points net higher.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2@4 points, and active positions sold 4 to 5 points higher right after the call, in sympathy with better cables than expected, and on the weather map showing a continuation of cold rains in the south. Realizing by scattered buyers of yesterday and unfavorable reports regarding the prospects for an early settlement of English labor troubles caused a setback of 2 or 3 points during the middle of the morning in connection with the rather more favorable western belt forecast, but the selling was not aggressive and the market soon firmed up on renewed support from leading trade interests, Wall street and uptown bulls. Reports of small fertilizr sales and talk of an improved spot demand helped the advance and, as prices worked higher, a few stop orders were uncovered, while there also appeared to be a little southern buying here, which tended to color the predictions of an unfavorable new crop start. The close was within 2 or 3 points of the best on active positions.

While more active, trading during the day was by no means general and seemed to be largely for local account. Rumors of a remaining short interest in March were circulated during the afternoon and near months closed at practically the best, although new crop positions had led on the unfavorable news.

In addition to unfavorable British labor news bearish predictions were supported early by reports of increasing unrest among German coal miners and of labor troubles in Spain, but notwithstanding the unsatisfactory character of these advices as bearing upon the more immediate trade outlook, the action of the day's market was considered by local bulls as indicating that the situation was becoming more susceptible to reports concerning the new crop outlook.

Receipts, 10,936; stock, 283,368.

Cotton futures opened steady at an advance of 3 to 5 points, on good cables and a very unfavorable weather map. Heavy rains were reported over a large part of the cotton belt and telegrams from the country said that farm work would be seriously delayed in consequence. The advance would have been wider in the early trading but for disquieting cables from Berlin, which stated that German miners were threatening to strike. At the end of the first half hour of business prices were 6 to 7 points over yesterday's close.

The weather forecast predicted frost and freezing weather in the western half of the cotton belt and more rain in the eastern half. This stimulated buying around the middle of the morning and kept the market on a slow advance. Slightly better quotations on foreign national securities caused the trade to take a less gloomy view of the labor situation abroad. It was rumored that the largest interests on this side were heavy buyers in a quiet way. At noon the market was quiet and steady at a net advance of 10 to 13 points.

STEEL STOCKS MADE GOOD GAINS

Business on Change Very Active in Early Part of the Session.

New York, March 5.—For the first two hours of the trading on the stock exchange today business was almost the largest and broadest of any recorded thus far this year. In the course of the morning United States Steel, which resumed its old-time leadership, made a very decided gain, as did also Union Pacific, which was second to Steel in point of strength and activity. Movements of other leading stocks were in keeping and the demand soon comprehended the largest number of issues dealt in for many weeks.

Activity died down in the early afternoon, when the market appeared to be digesting the heavy offerings of the earlier period, but, for the most part, gains were well maintained and in some instances increased, with resultant injury to a large and very stubborn short interest. Final prices of such stocks as Steel, Union Pacific, Reading and American Smelting were a point or more below the best, but the undertone at the close was strong.

On the surface at least there was little to account for the pronounced change that had come over the market. Advances from London were mostly to the effect that the labor situation was making itself more acutely felt all over England and had spread to Germany, where several hundred thousand miners were threatening to go on strike.

In connection with the rise in Steel, dealings in which comprised about 30 per cent of the day's transactions, it was asserted, with some circumstantial details, that a group of influential traders previously prominent on the bull side had organied a pool. Coincident with this was the circulation of rumors dealing with the forthcoming statement of the corporation's "unfilled tonnage" for February and dividend prospects for the current quarter. Regardless of the unfavorable showing made by the Steel Corporation for the final quarter of 1911, there are few who believe that the present disbursement will be immediately reduced.

On the other hand, it is generally conceded that the business of the past few months has been at prices which scarcely justify a continuance of the 5 per cent rate. There are intimations, however, that many large orders are pending, and that the entire aspect of the steel industry is undergoing a change for the better.

It was not until after the close of the market that Wall street learned of the rejection of the anthracite coal miners' demand by the employers. As a matter of fact no other conclusion was looked for, but it was expected that negotiations would go on until the middle of the month.

An unusually large number of railway reports were issued, among them being that of the Illinois Central for January, which showed a decrease in operating revenues of $1,150,000, an increase of $600,000 in expenses and a total increase in the net operating deficit of about $1,750,000. Two Gould roads submitted January reports, Missouri Pacific showing a net increase of $180,000 and St. Louis and Iron Mountain a net decrease of $162,000. Missouri, Kansas and Texas decreased net $194,000 and Norfolk and Western $114,000, while Great Northern increased its total net revenues by $452,[illegible]0, chiefly by reason of economy in [illegible]ations.

[illegible] bond market was more active, [illegible]ared only in small measure the [illegible] of stocks. Total sales, par v[illegible]gregated $2,767,000. United St[illegible]overnment bonds were unchanged on call.

Bradstreet's Available Supplies.

New York, March 5.—Special cable and telegraphic communications received by Bradstreet's show the following changes in available supplies as compared with previous accounts:

Wheat, United States, east Rockies, decreased 975,00 bushels; United States, west Rockies, decreased 40,000; Canada, increased 2,755,000. Total United States and Canada, increased 1,740,000. Afloat for and in Europe, increased 2,000,000. Total American and European supply increased 3,740,000.

Corn, United States and Canada, increased 752,000.

Oats, United States and Canada, increased 1,353,000.

Hubbard Bros. & Co.

New York, March 5.—Liverpool fully responded to the advance here yesterday and after an hour of hesitancy our market improved on Wall street buying, based on the belief that the weather in the south throughout the cotton belt was unfavorable for farm work. Too much rain was the basis for these views, which brought in many buying orders from northern sources. Predictions for the southwest are for warmer, fair weather, but no attention was paid to this or to the cablegrams from England, where there is no relief to the [illegible]al strike. Large bull traders appeared to [illegible] buying October and then reselling May on the advance. A firm tone pervaded the market all day, the feature being the northern buying.

Liverpool should advance 6 to 7 points tomorrow.

LATEST REPORTS FROM ALL THE MARKETS

WHEAT DECLINED ON HEAVY SELLING

Speculators Preparing for Surprises on Government Report.

Chicago, March 5.—Many wheat speculators sold out today as preparation for possible surprises when the government figures on farm reserves are made known the latter part of the week. Accordingly, the market at the close was 3-8 cent lower to a shade up. Corn lost 3-8 to 5-8 net, oats finished ⅛ off to 1-16 advance, and hog products wound up more costly by 2½ to 25c.

Plenty of moisture all the way from the Missouri river to the Colorado line started the wheat market on the down grade, the idea being that the snow and rain would prove so helpful to the growing crop little attention need be given to complaints of damage. Conditions of growth in foreign countries, too, were generally favorable, and the bearish effect was emphasized by a decided increase of the world's available supply total.

Brokers reported the selling of about 600,000 bushels of May wheat at $1.03½ and over by a big house with western connections. An hour later the buyers of this grain turned sellers, and in trying to unload depressed the market to the bottom point of the session. Commission house support on a scale down caused some reaction in the last hour, owing chiefly to shorts of cash sales at Minneapolis, St. Louis and Kansas City. Between the opening and the close May ranged from $1.03 to $1.03¾, with the price in the end firm, but 3-8c down at $1.03 3-8@1,03½.

Corn futures weakened in view of dispatches asserting that Texas buyers had enough supplies on hand or on the way to last until grass. It was also believed apparently that the rural demand for extra feed had been, perhaps, discounted to an extent which the circumstances did not altogether warrant. May fluctuated from 70 5-8 to 71⅛c, closing steady 3-8c under last night at 70 5-8c. Cash grades were slow. No. 2 yellow was not quoted. Argentina was said to be offering corn to Europe at figures 15c cheaper than could be made from the United States.

Although longs were realizing in oats, the market held relatively better than corn or wheat. A leading firm previously on the selling side was buying with considerable freedom. Upper and lower levels touched for May were 53@53⅛c and 52¾c, with the close at 52 7-8c, a net loss of ⅛c.

Provisions advanced sharply late in the day on account of an astonishing lack of offerings. Sellers seemed to have become frightened at news of the virtual doubling of export shipments. The outcome was 10@25c rise for pork and 2½c to 10c for lard and ribs.

Coffee.

New York, March 5.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of 8 to 12 points, in response to higher European cables and scattered buying, which seemed to be for both short and long account. The demand was not aggressive and large receipts at Brazil points encouraged some selling, as a result of which prices eased off a few points from the best during the middle of the day, but there were rumors of Brazilian buying in the afternoon and the market developed renewed firmness on covering with the close steady at a net advance of 10@12 points. Sales, 67,500 bags.

VICTORY IS NEAR FOR PEACE PACTS

Senate Will Probably Ratify Today Arbitration Treaties With England and France.

Washington, March 5.—Four hours' debate in the senate today seemed to indicate that the pending arbitration treaties with England and France probably would be ratified late tomorrow. The ratification will be the consummation of what many statesmen view as the first great move toward universal peace.

The target for the opponents of the treaties is the much discussed clause 3 of article 3. Some senators hold that this section delegates treaty-making powers of the senate to a joint high commission. Around this clause ranges the running fire of amendments, ratification resolutions and the real fight upon the treaties themselves.

Senator Lodge stated tonight that he expected a vote tomorrow, and that while the vote on the committee amendment proposing to strike out clause 3 from the treaties probably would be close, he believed that the treaties, unamended, would be ratified with his resolution.

The speakers today were Senators Brown, of Nebraska, and Williams, of Mississippi, who favored the treaties, and Senator Heyburn, of Idaho, who opposed them.

"We are embarking upon a general scheme which begins nowhere and ends nowhere," said Mr. Smith, of Michigan, "and if we pass this treaty in the form in which it comes to us there is not a senator in this body who can tell what questions we have resolved to arbitrate with Great Britain and France."

Senator Williams said he hoped to see an international court of arbitration to which all disputes among nations should be submitted. He said that none of the prerogatives of the senate would be surrendered by referring disputes to the proposed joint high commission.

QUARREL ABOUT WORK CAUSES DOUBLE TRAGEDY

New Albany, Ind., March 5.—When Joseph Whallen, 34 years of age, declared that on account of his health he could not work, his younger brother, Jacob, then asserted he would not work. In the quarrel that followed today on a farm they recently inherited, fifteen miles north of here, Jacob shot and killed his brother and then shot himself. Failing to inflict a mortal wound with the revolver, he took a razor and cut his throat, dying a few minutes later.

Asks Change of Venue.

Montgomery, Ala., March 5.—Contending that the minds of Montgomery county citizens are aflame and that John Adams, a negro charged with the murder of Policeman T. W. Berry, cannot receive a fair and impartial trial here, Attorney John S. Tilley, representing the negro, filed a petition with Judge Armstead Brown, of the city court, this morning demanding that the case be removed from Montgomery to another county.

There's Trouble in Siam.

Bangkok, Siam, March 5.—A serious revolutionary conspiracy aiming to establish a republic in Siam has been unearthened. Many officers and prominent civilians have been arrested. The plot was of formidable proportions, both the navy and the army being implicated.

LUMBER TALKS

No. 148

BY CY PRESS.

"THE TIME—THE PLACE AND THE LUMBER"—and it might be added, "the girl"—because many a prospective Benedict is going to plan a cozy home, and build it before he takes the proverbial "serious step" into the lime-light of matrimony.

The TIME TO BUILD is NOW—select your place—LOT—and then do the WISE thing—BUY YOUR LUMBER from E. G. WILLINGHAM'S SONS. This course of procedure relieves you of all doubts about QUALITY, and makes assurances doubly sure about PROMPT DELIVERY—the two great essentials in getting a building successfully under way, and completed.

Must Pay Taxes.

The law also requires that the voter shall have paid all taxes due state and county since the adoption of the constitution of 1877. For the elections of 1912, it is only necessary to have paid the taxes for 1911. The taxes for 1912 are not finally due until December 20 next; hence registration with payment of all taxes due through 1911, is sufficient to qualify any person, who has all other qualifications, to vote in all 1912 elections.

Bear this in mind: If you have not registered since the opening of the tax books in October, you must register before midnight of April 2, in order to be qualified to vote in the state primary and state election this year.

To vote in Georgia, a person must be a male citizen, 21 years old or more, on or before the date of the state election; must be a citizen of the United States and must have resided in the state one year and in the county in which he proposes to vote for a period of six months preceding the date of the election in question. Thus, if a man will become 21 on October 2, or will have completed his residence requirement by that date, he may vote both in the state primary and the general election. He must have paid all taxes due state and county since the adoption of the constitution of 1877, and after complying with these requirements, he may register under any one of the following constitutional requirements:

Registration Requirements.

(1) He must be a soldier or descendant of a soldier, of the various wars in which the United States has been engaged; or (2), he must be able to read correctly any section of the constitution of the United States or the state of Georgia, and to write same correctly when read to him by anyone of the registrars; or (3), he must be the owner in his own right of forty acres of land; or (4), he must be the owner of property returned for taxation to the amount of $500; or (5), he must be possessed of good character and understand the duties and obligations of citizenship under a republican form of government.

The voter is all right if he complies with any one of the foregoing constitutional requirements, after which his name must appear on the registration list within the period stated.

The law requires that ten days after the closing of the voters' books, the tax collector shall furnish to the registrars appointed by the judge of the superior court, a complete list of those whose names appear on the voters' books. The registrars then go through and purge the lists and file them as finally purged, with the clerk of the superior court. Only those whose names appear on the lists thus filed with the clerk, are entitled to vote.

The registration books remain open right along after April 2, but no registration after that date is valid for the state primary or the state election in October. The national election, however, does not take place until November 5, so that persons desiring to vote in this election only, will have a little more than a month longer in which to register.

STRIKE IS DECLARED OFF BY FIREMEN ON C. & W. C.

Augusta, Ga., March 5.—Announcement was made shortly after 6 o'clock this evening that the strike declared by white firemen of the Charleston and Western Carolina railway, February 22, was officially called off. Yesterday afternoon a delegation representing the striking firemen, made application to General Manager A. W. Anderson for reinstatement on their old runs, which was denied them on the ground that every place on the road had been filled.

Today a vote was taken on continuation of the strike and two-thirds were recorded against it.

MRS. GRACE HELD FOR SHOOTING

he is and he has been examining and attending him."

"Well, he's my husband, and he's not responsible for what he says now, and I ought to know," replied Mrs. Grace decisively.

Grace Does Not Drink.

It could not be learned why they thought him irrational or irresponsible. He is not a drinking man, said his step-father, Mr. Hill, and there is no information of any dope having been used. Chief Lanford suggested that the opinion was expressed solely because he had accused his wife of shooting him.

The circumstances surrounding the shooting are among the most mysterious and peculiar which have ever come under the attention of the local police. The only evidence given so far, of any importance, has been by the husband and wife, and their two servants, and these statements conflict in various particulars.

It was more than eight hours after he was shot, according to Grace himself, that he received attention. He states that at first he did not know he was shot, that it must have occurred while he was asleep, and that when he awoke with a numbness in his side he thought he had acute indigestion.

Mrs. Grace Leaves Husband.

His wife was with him at that time. She was in the house, by her own admission, until 12:15 o'clock, when she left for Newnan. Her husband says she left about 11 o'clock, and that she went to call a doctor for him, but up until 2:30 o'clock, when the police reached him, he had neither heard from his wife or received any aid.

"I called a doctor for Gene, but he has changed his mind now and don't want him," Mrs. Grace is alleged to have told the servants. "When the doctor comes, tell him Mr. Grace has gone to the office."

She could give no explanation of this last night and denied it when it was read to her from the sworn statements of the servants.

When the police arrived at the handsome residence on Eleventh street, they found it as securely barred and locked as if it had been a fortress. Even after climbing the front porch to the window of the room where the wounded man was suffering, no access could be gained. Finally the return of a servant let them into the lower floor, but the bedrooms were again locked, and it took an axe some three minutes to force an entrance.

No Keys to Room Doors.

There were no keys in any of the room doors which might have led to Mr. Grace in his bedroom. The doors had been locked on the outside, the police are confident, and care taken that no one reach the interior.

It was for this reason that Mr. Grace was without aid for eight or nine hours, lying with a desperate bullet wound which had bled profusely, suffering for a draught of water and unable to call aid because of the close-shut house, which kept in all sound.

"I hollered and hollered and then I tried to whistle, but nobody would come. For God's sake couldn't you give me a drink of ice water?" he asked weakly when the officers broke in.

As the stout door flew open under the repeated blows of the ax manned by a husky policeman. It was seen that the wounded man was lying, head down, jus tover the side of the bed. He tried to support his head with his right arm, but failed from exhaustion.

Push Me Over, Please.

"I dragged myself over here to get to the telephone and then couldn't get back. Push me over please, my head has been hanging over the side for a long time."

"When were you shot?"

"It must have been between 5 and 6 o'clock this morning," he answered. "I didn't know I was shot. I thought it was acute indigestion until I put my hand under my pajamas and felt the wet blood."

"We were told you had gone to Philadelphia?"

"I was supposed to go this morning, but I didn't get off. My wife is supposed to be gone, too, to Newnan."

"Do you want her notified?"

"No, I don't. Just telegraph my mother, Mrs. S. L. Hill, Greenville street, Newnan."

"Do you know who shot you?"

"The person that shot me I thought was my friend. I'll tell you all about it later."

Thinks Wife Shot Him.

Some few minutes afterward he was asked by a policeman if his wife shot him.

"I don't know; I think she did; it looks mighty suspicious," he said, according to the officer. Then adding in a whisper that was almost agonized, "Don't arrest anybody, for God's sake, until I can say something more."

The remainder of his story, told in disjointed sentences and with great suffering to a number of officers, was as follows:

"When I thought I was sick my wife said she would go downstairs and call a doctor. She went downstairs and then said she could not get one; that she would get a cab and go for one herself. She left the house about 11 o'clock and I haven't seen her since.

"I tried to summon aid by shouting, but the house was so closed up that I couldn't. Then I tried to whistle, and still nobody came. Finally I dragged myself across the bed to the telephone and called up the police."

It was then after 2 o'clock, and if he was shot at 6 o'clock in the morning, he had been without aid of any kind for eight hours. His lower limbs were paralyzed, possibly by the bullet, which entered under the left arm and went straight in toward the spinal column, which may have been affected. The bullet has not been extracted.

Beautifully Furnished Room.

The room in which the wounded man was lying was a luxuriously furnished bedroom, with a beautiful hand-carved mahogany four-poster bed. The pillows on the righthand side of the bed were piled as if he had been propped up by someone. The top pillow was stained heavily with blood. The stain was thoroughly dry and had already turned that peculiar brownish color indicating that it had been there some hours at least, according to the police.

The room was in disorder. Mr. Grace's clothes were as he had left them, but several small fancy boxes, evidently for holding minor articles of clothing, were tumbled in a chair and an empty suit case occupied another.

"Have you been in the bathroom?" he was asked.

"What is that blood in there?"

The question referred to a cloth, which the officer thought had been used to cleanse his wound and then put to soak in the bath tub.

"Why, my wife's been sick," he answered.

House Securely Locked.

This bedroom is the east corner bedroom of a front suite of rooms. It opens into the hall and into another bedroom, which likewise opens into the hall. The connecting door between the two rooms was open, but all means of entrance from the other parts of the house were securely locked.

A search for the pistol which did the shooting was unavailing until someone happened to espy in the downstairs hall, on a window ledge, partly hidden by curtains, a black steel revolver of .32 caliber. It has been identified as one which stayed in the Graces' bed room. There was a single shell exploded in it, freshly exploded, say the police, but how it came there has not been definitely learned.

Mrs. Grace, when arrested, caried a small alligator bag. In it were three large and heavy bunches of keys. She said that one of these belonged to her, another to her house in Philadelphia, and the third bunch was her husband's office keys. She did not know how she happened to have these.

She also said that she had a pistol of her own, a small .22 caliber, which not infrequently she carried when going out. There were three pistols in their house, she said, a large one left there by the man who owns the house they rent, her own and another. Mr. Grace said he always slept with a pistol under each pillow.

The character of the wound inflicted, say the police, will play an important part in tracing the criminal. It was fired from some distance away, because there were no powder burns. It went straight into the body from the lest side, indicating that the pistol had been in somebody else's hands than Mr. Grace's, if ever any suspicion was entertained. It would have been impossible to shoot himself in such a manner and inflict such a wound.

Statements From Servants.

The detectives last night secured statement from the Graces' servants, J. C. Ruffin and Martha Ruffin, who live in the rear of the residence. They had been told that their employers were to leave yesterday, one to Philadelphia, and the other for Newnan, and would not be back until Friday.

"Mrs. Grace wanted me to go and make a fire for Mr. Gene, because he was cold," said Martha Ruffin. "I went up there and he was in the bed groaning and grunting, but I didn't pay no attention to it. She said to him, 'You ain't sick, Gene, you are just sleeping.'"

J. C. Ruffin, recounting what his wife had told him when she returned from upstairs, said: "When Mrs. Grace told Mr. Gene he wasn't sick, he was just sleeping, he said, 'No, that ain't what's the matter with me.' She had all the doors locked and carried his breakfast to him herself. She wouldn't let me go in the room at all, although I usually goes in when I carry her suit case downstairs, but she set it out of the room this time and I didn't see Mr. Gene at all. She told me to tell the doctor when he come that Mr. Gene had gone to the office."

Mrs. Grace Is Grilled.

Mrs. Grace was put through a grilling questioning last night by detectives, but steadily persisted that the charge was preposterous, and that she knew nothing of the shooting.

"Gene was feeling badly, and had been taking some quinine and cough medicine for his cold," she said. "The night before we had gone to the Forsyth theater, as we go every Monday night. There has been no hard feeling between us and we have been the best of friends.

"When I got up in the morning Gene stayed in bed. I left the house about 12:15 o'clock and he was dressing then to go to the bank. I left the room door unlocked, but with the key on the outside, as we always have it, because our bed room is kept locked. I know nothing of the pistol or the shooting, and the first that I knew of it was when I got the message at Newnan."

Husband's Parents Accompany Her.

Mrs. Grace was accompanied back to Atlanta by her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Hill, and his half-brother, a boy in knickerbockers. At the police station two friends were added to the group and a cousin of Mr. Grace. They were very attentive to Mrs. Grace and conversed with her at times in low tones. An attempt was made to get bond in the sum of $7,500, but this failed and up to midnight she was still locked up.

Mrs. Grace was formerly Mrs. Ulrich, of Philadelphia. It is said that she was first married to a Mr. Obie, a paper pulp manufacturer. They had one child, who is now in a Philadelphia school. Mr. Obie is said to have left her wealthy, and report last night had it that she had inherited a fortune of nearly $1,000,000 since that time. She denies, however, that she inherited any money since marriage.

The detectives had information that she and Mr. Grace were married after a romantic courtship not six weeks after the death of her first husband. Chief Lanford said that she denied this last night, but admitted that she had married within a short time.

Husband Was Attorney.

In her business relations with her husband, the detectives state that she has recently given Mr. Grace the power of attorney, and that in this way he was practically in control of her properties.

"Why, I would give him anything I had within reason," she said to the detectives last night.

Mr. Grace is a young man and one of the most popular of the younger married set. He was well known in a business way, and in his pocketbook when he was shot was a check for $2,000 made out by a prominent attorney, a loan on some real estate, it is said.

The Grace home at 29 West Eleventh street, formerly the John F. Kiser house, is one of the most beautifully furnished in the city. Persian rugs cover the floors, the furniture is massive and handsome, and the walls are covered with tapestries and rare prints.

Owing to the prominence of the people the affair has created the greatest sensation of the year, and developments are watched for with eagerness.

More Filing Capacity at Less Cost

You see, it's like this, Mr. Buyer. When you purchase Filing Cabinets you are really buying Filing Capacity. It is more economical to buy the file that gives the most capacity, the best construction, and best workmanship. The do all this. They usually have one or two more drawers than other lines, and at least 25 per cent more capacity. The price per unit is usually from 10 to 25 per cent cheaper than other lines and the construction and material is absolutely guaranteed. We can prove every statement we have made, Mr. Buyer, and if you are from Missouri we can make it clear to you.
